Consider Terms

City Is Planning For Operation Of Airport Here

Discussions have taken place between civic and Dominion officials relative to future operation of the Edmonton airport, it was disclosed at the Civic Block Thursday.

ROMEO VACHON, Montreal, a member of the Dominion Air Transport Board, conferred with Mayor Harry Ainlay, the city commissioners and City Engineer A. W. Haddow on terms and conditions the city would be prepared to take over the operation of the airport.

Mayor Ainlay stated that the commissioners would report to council on Monday night next on this matter, and intimated that they would recommend that the finance committee of council consider terms under which the city would again take over the operation of the airport.

THE DOMINION government took over the airport early in the war period, and operated under a lease from the city.

Mr. Vachon, according to civic officials, is making a Dominion-wide tour of airports preparatory to the adoption of peace-time operational practice.

The City of Vancouver has already intimated to the Dominion authorities that it is prepared to operate the Vancouver airport as far as municipal requirements are concerned.

Pravda Claims Canada Acting To Help Bevin

MOSCOW, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Communist newspaper Pravda today charged Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain with "complete failure" at the United Nations meeting in London and said it was clear that Prime Minister Mackenzie King now was trying to "distract attention" from this setback.

PRAVDA WAS referring to Mr. King's announcement last Friday that secret and confidential information was leaking out to a foreign mission, later identified in Ottawa as the Soviet embassy.

"Someone obviously had to help Bevin," declared Pravda, "to distract attention from his failures at the session of the assembly. It is clear now that King decided to aid Bevin. The latter, however, did not dare to defend Bevin directly, but took upon himself another task —to distract attention from Bevin's political failure at the session of the assembly."

The editorial followed delivery of the official Soviet statement to Leon Henri Dandurand in Detroit and d'affaires, by Deputy Foreign Commissar Solomon A. Lozovsky.

THE STATEMENT, broadcast by Moscow radio last night, denied that Soviet representatives had sought to secure information in Canada, but added that some members of the staff of the Russian military attache had received some information from Canadians which was obsolete.

Mr. Mayrand said he relayed the statement to Ottawa immediately after receiving it last night. Shortly after midnight he went to the home of British Minister Frank Roberts, and as a member of the British Commonwealth reported the matter to him.

Canadian Murder Victim in Brisbane

BRISBANE, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Dr. James Carson Taylor, 31, of Toronto, a distinguished Canadian scholar, died Tuesday of injuries police said he received in a street fray Feb. 10 in South Brisbane.

An Australian whom officers described as partly aboriginal was charged with his murder.

DR. TAYLOR had come to Australia to accept a post as lecturer in philosophy at Melbourne University. He was selected from a large number of applicants from universities in Canada, Britain and the United States. He was a graduate of Victoria College, Toronto.

He went ashore while his ship was in Brisbane the night of Feb. 13, and strayed unknowingly, police said, into a locality they termed "notorious for brawls and disturbances".

Merchants Ask Uniform Closing Alberta Stores

Members of the Alberta section of the Retail Merchants' Association will seek uniform closing legislation for stores and businesses throughout the province, it was decided at the closing session of the annual convention of the section held in the Macdonald hotel Wednesday.

BY A RESOLUTION, the section appointed Secretary H. E. MacKay, Calgary, to interview councils of the seven Alberta cities, Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Red Deer, Drumheller and Wetaskiwin, with the objective of obtaining agreement on a uniform hour of closing.

The cities will be asked to relinquish their individual control over closing hours and support the plan for a province-wide closing law for which legislation will be sought.

NO SET SCHEDULE of hours was fixed at the meeting.

Another resolution approving of price stabilization throughout the Dominion, was passed, as was a proposal for uniform legislation on credit for the protection of consumers.

The following new sections of the association were approved: Radio and appliances, food dealers, shoe dealers, clothing and men's wear.

ABOUT 60 MERCHANTS attended from points as widely separated as Lethbridge and Peace River.

Membership of the association is 20 per cent above the high mark of any previous year.

Interim Report On Spy Probe Expected Soon

By JACK BRAYLEY

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—It was reliably learned here today that an interim report by the Royal Commission on espionage will be made not later than Saturday and that the commission likely will conclude its investigation around March 7.

IT WAS UNDERSTOOD the interim report will merely report progress and will contain little more information than was discussed in the original statement issued by Prime Minister Mackeznie King last Friday.

It may be several weeks before the final report of the Royal Commission is available and meanwhile it is possible Mr. King may have replied to the Soviet note—now in the course of transmission from Moscow to Ottawa. It is highly possible that the reply will be made public simultaneously with its delivery to the Russian charge d'affaires here.

IT ALSO WAS RELIABLY learned that official circles here have studied the published text of the note which said that Canada's act-

Settlement of GM Strike Hoped For

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—A crippling strike of transit workers in Lancaster, Pa., appeared near settlement today but the spotlight on United States industrial strife again was centred on Detroit and the three-month-old General Motors work stoppage.

Union and management representatives reached an agreement in Lancaster early today to end the 16-day transit strike which had seriously interfered with business in the Pennsylvania community of 60,000, but the agreement was to be submitted to the American Federation of Labor union membership for ratification.

WHILE DEPARTMENT of labor officials mapped plans to avert a threatened country-wide strike of 250,000 telephone workers, they watched with interest today's negotiations in Detroit between General Motors and CIO United Auto Workers officials.

James F. Dewey, special federal mediator, although making no prediction, said he would not rule out possibility of a settlement today of the strike, the longest of the country's work stoppages. He reported "substantial" progress was made at yesterday's negotiations.

Pope Creates New Cardinals In Majestic Rome Ceremony

IN A LONG MAJESTIC ceremony rich with color and the ancient tradition of the Roman Catholic church, the pontiff bestowed on the new princes of the Church the flat, broad-brimmed and tasselled symbols of their dignity.

They will receive the final symbol of their new rank—their rings—at a secret consistory tomorrow, concluding week-long ceremonies marked by the Pope's world broadcast yesterday in which he called

Liberal Meeting:

Ask Alta. Govt. Pay Half Cost Of Education

CALGARY, Feb. 21.—(CP)—A motion that the provincial government should bear at least 50 per cent of the cost of secondary and primary education in Alberta was endorsed by the executive of the Alberta Liberal party during the second day of its two-day meeting here yesterday. A request that the provincial and federal governments each reduce by one cent per gallon their taxes on crude oil also received the executive's approval.

THE POLICY of the present provincial government has increased taxation in rural areas 30 percent, with little or no increase in government services, the motion said. "The province could easily bear the extra cost of education of its liquor profits".

It was pointed out that liquor profits in Alberta have risen from $1,251,000 in 1934 to $5,400,000 in 1944, and that the increase would probably be continued in 1945.

Protein Grading Study of Wheat To Be Undertaken

WINNIPEG, Feb. 21 — (CP) —A study of the protein grading of wheat will be undertaken by scientists of the Nation Research Council, it was announced here today at a conference of cereal chemists, plan breeders and plant pathologists.

Canadian wheat commands a premium on world markets mainly because of its high protein content and baking strength and it was suggested at the conference the most logical way of controlling the quality of western crops was by introduction of protein content as a grading factor.

It was suggested protein limits should be set for No. 1 Manitoba northern, a grade that has constituted 37 per cent of the western crop in the last 15 years.

Offered 50 Years' Friendship

FOREIGN SECRETARY BEVIN

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(Reuters)—Foreign Secretary Bevin disclosed today that Britain offered two months ago to extend the life of the Anglo-Soviet friendship pact by 30 years.

Mr. Bevin, winding up two days' debate in the House of Commons on foreign affairs, said he told Russia's representative in Moscow last December "we want a treaty of friendship and I mean friendship. I mean it. If they want to change the treaty from 20 to 50 years, I will advise my government to do it."

Amid cheers, Mr. Bevin declared: "I cannot be accused of not wanting friendship with the Soviet Union for all time."

Opening of Bridge at Rocky Heralds New Era for District

By J. V. O'NEILL

Tears of joy welled in the eyes of old timers. The strident voices of youngsters filled the air, and a concert of cheers rose steadily in volume from an estimated 5,000 throats as the cutting of several generations of residents of Rocky Mountain House and district was realized Wednesday, when William Kirby and Fred Fisher, pioneer residents of opposite banks of the North Saskatchewan river, drove the last rivets in the steel bridge which will open a new vista in development for the district, for Alberta and for Canada.

LONG LINES OF CARS and crowds of eager people jammed the approach to the bridge to catch a glimpse of the cutting in two of the barricade log, symbolic of the district's main industry, by the Hon. J. A. Hooke, provincial secretary and minister of economic affairs, and Hon W. A. Fallow, minister of public works.

First dignitaries to cross by motor the 833-foot, four-span steel structure were Mr. and Mrs. Hooke, Mr. Fallow, and Mrs. Edward Good, a pioneer resident of the Rocky Mountain House settlement of more than 1,000 persons. Following immediately behind were three buses

Completion of a connecting link to the Banff-Jasper highway, linking traffic through Rocky Mountain House and Nordegg, is among the plans of the government during the next five years, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, declared Wednesday to an audience of visitors to the opening of the all-steel David Thompson bridge over the North Saskatchewan river at Rocky.

CLIMAXING AN HISTORIC day in the history of the logging, lumbering and agricultural community of 1,000, the minister spoke before some 350 persons in the Legion Hall following a dinner tendered by the Rocky Mountain House Board of Trade and members of the community to visitors from distant points who had come to witness the opening of the new bridge which was completed Wednesday after beginning in March 1945.

"The government of Alberta would not have taken on the bridge if they had not been confident of its future in the development of

Youth Is Charged After Plane Crash

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21.—(CP)—A 17½-year-old Vancouver boy faces two charges under the Canadian Air Regulations Act following a crash of his Dellavaland seaplane in the Fraser river last Oct. 21.

The youth, who purchased the plane a few months before the crash, was arrested Saturday at the Vancouver airport and will appear this Saturday before juvenile court at Brighouse. He has been released on $100 bail.

THE CHARGES ALLEGE that he flew an aircraft without holding a pilot's license and that he flew an unregistered aircraft.

It is alleged the boy took the aircraft by truck from Vancouver airport to a point on the Fraser River between New Westminster and the airport, where it was launched.

He then took off but crashed into a log boom shortly after the seaplane became airborne, it is charged.

Authorities said that he purchased the aircraft from a Harrison Lake owner prior to the crash.

Bloody Civil Riots Break Out Throughout City of Bombay

By MILTON KELLY

BOMBAY, Feb. 21.—(AP)—British troops and striking seamen of the Royal Indian Navy battled near the Bombay waterfront today while warcraft of the mutineers manoeuvred in the harbor. Bloody civilian riots broke out in the heart of the city tonight.

Police fired repeatedly on street mobs after failing to break them up with laths. Spectators said there were many casualties.

THREE STREET CARS and three buses were halted and set afire after the passengers were forced out. Gas lights were extinguished and, in the confusion, rioters smashed windows and a theatre display case and looted some jewelry shops and restaurants.

Newest Wheat Type to Boost Farm Incomes

WINNIPEG, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Incomes of western farmers may be increased by $50,000,000 annually through development of a new variety of sawfly resistant wheat called "Rescue."

IT HAS BEEN recommended for licensing and distribution following a joint conference of cereal chemists, plant breeders and pathologists here.

A statement today said research has shown the variety to be deficient in break-making quality, and it is recommended that Rescue be graded no higher than No. 3 Manitoba northern.

It is explained the unusual step was taken because of the need for fighting the sawfly menace, taking annual toll of millions of bushels of grain on the prairies; the need for soil conservation in affected areas, and the necessity of producing maximum amounts of wheat during a period of world-wide shortage.

RESCUE WAS DEVELOPED at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Swift Current, Sask., by A. W. Platt, plant breeder.

Rescue will be distributed first to selected growers, and given normal crop production it should be enough for general distribution in 1948. There are approximately 8,000 bushels available for distribution to selected growers.

The conference also recommend-

Army Member Demands Jobs, Homes For Vets

A demand that veterans be given first choice at every government job, of every available farm or piece of land, of all available homes and of every business or professional opportunity, featured the address of Harper Prowse, army representative in the Alberta Legislature, when he spoke in the debate on the Speech From the Throne at Thursday afternoon's sitting of the house. He asked that the privileges he outlined should be available to veterans for at least the next five years, or until Jan. 1, 1950.

"I KNOW", he said "that an attempt is being made to do this in some respects, but I would like to see this house give its unqualified approval to such a scheme. Then perhaps you would have some right to claim you were doing everything possible".

Dealing with the question of housing, Mr. Prowse suggested that the house should ponder the possibility of making it illegal for any landlord to refuse to rent to a vet-

Syndicate Plans Tourist Camps On Alaska Road

Federal approval of a plan to establish tourist camps at points 100 miles apart, and establish regular passenger bus service between Dawson Creek and the Alaskan boundary on the Alaska highway is being sought by a syndicate formed recently at Dawson Creek, Norman J. Normile, representing the syndicate, stated in an interview here Thursday.

MR. NORMILE, WHO WAS in charge of transportation on the highway for the United States engineer department during the war, said that the syndicate possess "unlimited funds" for putting their plans into operation.

Permission of the federal authorities is therefore being sought with the intention of getting a start early this spring if approval is obtained.

MR. NORMILE said that it is the intention of the syndicate to purchase many of the buildings formerly used by United States Army and construction personnel along the highway and to move them to points between the regular military highway maintenance camps. By this method tourists would have facilities every 50 miles. Wild veterans would be employed at all camps.

M. A. Van Rogan, solicitor of Vancouver and Dawson Creek, is acting as counsel for the syndicate.

NORMILE SAID THE feeling in general in the north that an early start should be made on opening up the highway for civilian tourist traffic.

He said the syndicate is prepared to operate a bus service at a loss for a couple of years.

He plans to confer with L. H. Rhinecy, commissioner in charge of northwest defence projects for the Canadian government.

tial" information from Canadians, as a defensive manoeuvre and said the report of the Royal Commission probing the ring would blow the Russian alibi sky high."

INFORMED of the Soviet statement that their attache received only "insignificant" information, Rose answered tersely:

"The report of the Royal Commission will blow that alibi sky high. They got more than that. They're just preparing the ground for their defence."

Constitutional authorities told The Canadian Press that the Russian statement did not necessarily mean a break of diplomatic relations, but rather the Soviet Union now would ask for an explanation of the inquiry.

BUT ANOTHER SOURCE went so far as to say the statement could be taken as an admission of guilt sufficient to cause the withdrawal of the military attache and all staff to minimize the affair.

Semi-official circles saw in the Soviet broadcast an attempt to put the Russian viewpoint before the world before the Canadian government had made public its position in the matter.

These sources stressed the statement did not alter the fact the Soviets had developed in Canada a "fifth column" through which they were obtaining information which would be advantageous to them in another war.

THE RUSSIAN statement served to confirm reports here the Soviet agents had been absorbing from Canadians, who had been blackmailed into their service, information concerning atomic energy—information which the Russians now claim was useless and could be found in well-known publications.

The diplomatic skirmish was expected to delay publication of an interim report from the royal commissioners. The feeling now is that state affairs between Canada and Russia will have to be clarified before this statement can be made.

SAY INFORMATION IS "INSIGNIFICANT"

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Russia, frankly admitting that its representatives had obtained "secret data" in Canada, maintained the information was "insignificant" and accused the Canadian government of fostering an "unbridled anti-Soviet campaign."

"THE SOVIET military attache in Canada received from acquaintances among Canadian citizens certain information of a secret character which, however, did not present a special interest to Soviet authorities", the Russian government said in a statement broadcast last night over the Moscow radio.

The statement indicated the information concerned radar and atomic energy.

At the same time, the statement said, Russia considered "necessary to call attention to the campaign, hostile to the Soviet Union, which has started in the Canadian press and radio . . . the position taken up by the Canadian government is directed toward the encouragement of this campaign in the press and radio. It is not compatible with friendly relations between the two countries.

"ONE MUST RECOGNIZE," the statement continued, "that the above mentioned unbridled anti-Soviet campaign was part of a plan of the Canadian government and is aimed at influencing political harm to the Soviet Union."

The statement, later handed to the Canadian charge d'affaires in Moscow, asserted that the Soviet military attache at Ottawa was recalled as soon as "the above mentioned activities of certain members" of his staff became known to the Russian government, because of the "inadmissibility" of those activities.

THE STATEMENT said the Soviet ambassador and other members of the embassy in Canada had "no connection whatsoever with the matter."

The Russian statement expressed "amazement" that the Canadian government had published its statement telling of the leakage of secret information without first asking an explanation from the Soviet government.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

Liberal Meet

Members were told that British Columbia has 55 percent of secondary and primary education and Ontario 50 per cent, while Alberta averages about 17 percent.

The request for a one cent per gallon reduction in crude oil taxation on the part of both the provincial and federal governments was made to cover the increased cost of crude oil in the province. It was hoped that in this way the cost of the refined product might be left unchanged.

THE GASOLINE TAX yielded $1,724,000 to the provincial government in 1934 and the tax was increased one cent in 1935. In 1944 the revenue from the gasoline tax had risen to $9,013,000. Revenue derived by the province from motor vehicle licenses rose from $1,667,000 in 1934 to $3,013,000 in 1944.

Because of these increased revenues, and because the total Alberta which has persisted in attempting to use the veterans' desperate need of accommodation as a lever to get out of the government's conditions which they cannot hope justly to obtain under any circumstances".

TURNING TO THE report of the minister of education, Hon. R. Earl Ansley, Mr. Prowse assured him the wholehearted support of the service group in the house in anything the minister wishes to undertake to better the conditions for children in Alberta.

"However," the former soldier said, "it was with misgivings that I heard him explain that the province lacked the money required to do all that he wished to accomplish."

He pointed out that the country had little trouble in finding all the money it needed to fight the war, which was fought so that we might have the right to solve our own problems.

"Surely," he pleaded, "it is only common sense to get from the same place the money we require to make use of that right now we have it."

In his opening remarks, the ex-soldier member recalled that when he first returned to Canada from Italy about one year ago, he had been assured by people all over the province that "Mitchell was too good for our boys." So universal was this expression that he had become convinced of the sincerity of those who made it.

However, since the cessation of hostilities it has been found that many people would expect the servicemen to take an axe or a pick and shovel to do tasks which no one else wanted, on the theory that a "job is a job."

RIGHT NOW IN ALBERTA, he said, there are nearly 5,000 unemployed ex-servicemen, and while jobs may be available in the spring these men, who were promised that there would be work for them, find that promise has been broken.

Hon. A. J. Hooke had assured the house that the provincial government had already placed more than 500 veterans of this war in the government employ. This was most commendable, Mr. Prowse stated.

"But let me make myself clear on this point," he said. "You have not gone far enough."

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

In any discussion of freak hands, someone is sure to mention the Duke of Cumberland, and I often receive requests for it. If you are not familiar with the hand, it would seem unbelievable that South, with all his high cards, could not take a trick. You can have some fun with your friends if you prepare this hand and watch how they bid and play it. West, who persists in overcalling South's bids, is finally pushed to seven spades, which South eagerly doubles.

You can see that, regardless of North's opening, West is going to make a grand slam. If a heart or diamond is led, declarer ruffs it, ruffs a diamond in dummy, which drops the king, then finesses the ten of spades. Another diamond is ruffed in dummy, dropping the ace, the queen of spades is finessed, and the ace picks up the last trump. The declarer's hands are solid.

This is the best known of all freak hands ever played in bridge.

ion was incompatible with friendly relations between the two countries.

From this study, the officials are said to have drawn "no rigid inferences." They believe it does not necessarily mean an "absolute break" in diplomatic relations but merely means that "relations will not be quite as friendly as they have been before."

A SOURCE CLOSE to the espionage situation said of the anticipated interim report of the Royal Commission:

"I doubt if it will contain anything of substance."

It was emphasized the investigation was strictly a matter of Canada "cleaning its own house." Any action likely would be taken against Canadian nationals and there was no special inclination on Canada's part to publicly condemn Russian agents or agencies.

Canadian - Russian diplomatic dealings have been cordial up to the publication of the Moscow protest. Before leaving on what appeared to be a normal visit to Russia, Ambassador George Zarubin had followed the usual diplomatic practice of notifying the Canadian external affairs department of his trip.

HE HAD LEFT EARLY in December, saying he would be gone for "several weeks."

The government did not know of the departure of Col. Nicolai Zabotin, the military attache who Moscow admitted receiving certain confidential information from Canadians.

However, it is understood it is not diplomatic practice to report the movements of members of foreign missions other than the ambassador.

your own community and the province," stated Mr. Fallow.

HE SAID THE BRIDGE was most essential to the development of Rocky Mountain House in that it would bring the town out of a comparative obscurity "and place it in a position of prominence."

The bridge, he said, marked the beginning of "great things" for the town and province in the great advantage being that in the position of traffic from Calgary and Edmonton it would obtain an entirely new route for tourist traffic from Banff, Red Deer and Calgary as soon as the highway from Nordegg was extended to the Banff-Jasper highway.

HE POINTED ALSO to another project under way by the government. We have started on the road, the Grimshaw-Great Slave highway which, when completed will make accessible the limitless resources of the north," stated Mr. Fallow.

After reviewing the hardships the residents of the district had endured for more than a quarter century in the use of the ferry and in the bowing out of their homes and preparing the way for succeeding generations to enjoy the fruits of their toil, Mr. Fallow expressed appreciation of the people's "magnificent" reception of himself and his colleagues on the completion of the bridge.

HON. A. J. HOOKE, provincial secretary and minister of economic affairs, discounted the own part in the ceremony as that of a "bit-for-through-truss bridge. He reflected the credit to the construction crew, his colleagues and to the people of that district, whom he represents as MLA.

He termed "a healthy sign" the prediction that within six or more months the people of that district would be using money projects and development. He explained that this bridge had been built during the war from materials obtained only by the restrictions on materials.

He referred to the depression period when the popular cry that money couldn't be found for public works projects. Now the cry was "no more materials".

HE SAID THAT AT the time of the great depression farmers across the line were plowing under their cotton crops and destroying wheat, Canada continued to emphasize that lack of foreign markets was responsible for the dip in economy.

Then closing, he said markets represented by Germany and Japan in the pre-war period. "They took everything we had to sell and later hurled a great deal of it back at us," he said.

When the war started Canada soon found a way to loosen money for the purpose of manufacture, said Mr. Hooke.

"DON'T LET ANYBODY any longer tell you that money can't be found for the development of our industries," said the provincial secretary.

He criticized the anomalies existing in Federal regulations.

"We pay the farmers not to raise hogs, and then we turn around and ration meat."

"Children are said to be one of our greatest resources, yet if we acknowledge we are parents of a young one we are denied a home or even rooms."

"THE FARMER IS SAID to be the backbone of the country, but we have treated him as public enemy number three.

"We charge high prices for liquor; we doctor it, and ration it. Then we punish you if he drinks a little too much of it."

He closed by urging close cooperation of community workers with their government and of abandoning the idea of "labels" in party politics.

"OTHER SPEAKERS WERE J. B. Holden, mayor of Westerdale; W. H. Teskey, retiring mayor and president of the Rocky Mountain House board of trade; D. M. Sinclair, member of parliament for Red Deer; Ernest Ross, a pioneer of Rocky; Clarence Hayes, Stanley H. Halliday, Red Deer; Jack Davis, Banff; Maj. E. F. Pullen, Alexo; Owen Morgan, Saunders; W. B. Starcock, Nordegg, and William Reinholt, foreman of the construction crew which completed the bridge on Wednesday.

Mayor J. N. Cony was chairman of the evening. Following the after dinner speaking there were shown and a community dance was sponsored by the Kinsmen club.

this second city of India were in expressed sympathy for the Royal Indian Navy strikers, who were reported by one seaman to have suffered 200 casualties in the fire of British and Indian troops besieging their castle barracks.

EARLIER TODAY it was learned that the strikers had trained the guns of a flotilla of warships on the city. At the same time, it was announced that strong naval, military and air reinforcements were on their way to Bombay, Poona and Karachi.

Naval ratings barricaded in Castle barracks, a commandeered inn in the Castle section in the heart of the downtown area, were besieged by British and Indian troops. The troops had ordered that what Indian navy's flag officer called a "state of open mutiny."

NINE WARSHIPS HELD by the strikers manoeuvred into battle position in the harbor as the troops and barricaded seamen exchanged rifle and machine gun fire.

A British communique said the seamen who had seized control of vessels in the harbor had threatened to fire if any move was made against them.

The estimate of 200 seamen killed or wounded came from a rating who said he had escaped from the barracks. There was no official acknowledgement of casualties.

Nazis' Anti-Church Outrages Told Court

From Canadian Press, Associated Press and British United Press dispatches

A Cardinal's letter to the Pope describing German outrages against the Roman Catholic church in occupied Poland was submitted by the Soviet prosecution today as evidence against the 22 Nazi leaders on trial for war crimes at Nuernberg.

M. Y. Raginsky, veteran Red Army lawyer, introduced excerpts from Vatican correspondence in presenting the case of Nazi wartime destruction of cultural, artistic and religious institutions.

"Monasteries and convents have been methodically suppressed," Raginsky said the Pope was informed by Polish Cardinal Hlond. "Their houses and their institutes have been occupied by the army of the Nazi party. Invaders have further confiscated or sequestered the patrimony of the church, considering themselves as masters. Cathedrals, bishops' palaces, seminaries, canons' residences, revenues and properties of the bishoprics . . . all have been pillaged by the invaders," the letter said.

on his church to become a militant leader in preparing the basis upon which society can rest securely."

THE PONTIFF WAS BORNE into St. Peter's at 9:35 a.m. (2:35 a.m. EST) on his portable throne for today's public consistory.

Thousands of visiting church dignitaries and diplomats filled into the historic cathedral soon after dawn and by 8 a.m. the world's largest church was packed.

The majority of those attending the ceremony had a long wait before the ritual began. Most were ordinary people attired in their dress. They filled the long rows of seats in the nave.

THE SMALLER PRIVILEGED box holders—Papal and Roman aristocracy, the diplomatic corps and the retinues of the cardinals—were garbed in formal attire. The men generally wore full evening dress with black vests and white ties as is customary at such ceremonies. The women were in black with veils covering their hair.

After today's ceremony, there remains only the second and final secret consistory Friday, at which the ceremonies of "opening and closing of the mouth"—symbolic of the cardinals' duty to counsel the pontiff and keep the high secrets of their office—will take place.

OF THE 32 CARDINALS created Monday, two—John Cardinal De Jong of the Netherlands and Jules Cardinal Sallege of France—were too ill to come to Rome. Another—Jose Cardinal Caro Rodriguez of Chile—became ill after reaching Rome.

Plan to Appeal Supreme Court Ruling on Japs

TORONTO, Feb. 21. — (CP) — Issues involved are of "such crucial importance" to Canadian liberties that an immediate appeal will be made to the Privy Council against the Supreme Court ruling legalizing the deportation of some Japanese, the co-operative committee on Japanese Canadians announced yesterday.

The committee, affiliated with similar organizations across Canada, issued its statement shortly after the Ottawa announcement that a majority decision of the Supreme Court had upheld validity of orders-in-council as affecting some 10,000 to 15,000 Japanese.

THE STATEMENT SAID the fact that a "substantial part" of the government deportation program has been held to be unconstitutional constitutes "a moral victory for those who have been fighting for the cause of Japanese Canadians."

"What is left of these orders as legally valid cannot be carried out without separating families, depriving wives of their husbands and children of their fathers, thus making widows and orphans of Canadian citizens."

Naming Andrew Brewin of Toronto as counsel, the statement added "We assume that the government will halt proceedings of deportation until this matter of great importance is decided by the final court of appeal."

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21.—(CP)—R. J. McMaster of Vancouver, counsel for Japanese groups in British Columbia, said yesterday they are ready to contribute money toward financing an appeal to the Privy Council against the decision of the supreme court of Canada upholding the validity of federal government's repatriation orders.

Bread Ration Now Unlikely In Gt. Britain

LONDON, Feb. 21. — (CP) — Viscount Addison, dominions secretary, in the House of Lords yesterday assured the people of Britain that British wheat stocks were quite satisfactory and there was no likelihood of bread rationing.

Lord Addison made the statement during most of the difficult war years speaking earlier, had criticized Sir Ben Smith, present food minister, and his Labor cabinet colleagues for current food shortages.

He declared: "While the cabinet has been planning the new world in which we are to live we seem to have been allowed to slip into a position in which we may have insufficient food to maintain our life and health."

DR. W. H. COOK, director, division of applied botany, National Research Council, was chairman of the conference which included three associate committees of the National Research Council and the Dominion department of agriculture.

Additional varieties of sawfly resistant wheat are being developed and it is hoped within two years to have a grain of top grade and high bread-making quality.

WESTERN FARMERS, chiefly in Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta, and to a limited extent in Manitoba, have been losing an estimated $10,000,000 annually to the sawfly. Saskatchewan losses alone have totalled more than $20,000,000 a year.

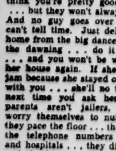
Elizabeth Woodward Says . . .



TAKE HER HOME ON TIME

Any girl you date has a curfew to keep. Some parents are strict about their daughters' hours. And it's your responsibility to deliver on time. You're the engineer of your dates. And parents can't understand what you could possibly be doing till all hours . . . but they get all sorts of strange notions. Perhaps your own parents allow you to come and go as you please. But when you have a gal in tow, you have to bow to her parents' rules.

This may mean no stop for a hamburger after the movies . . . or pile her into her hat and coat before anyone else leaves the party. But you won't die of starvation without that hamburger. And after you take your gal home . . . you can always go back to the party.

YOUR BETTER see that your gal's on her doorstep at the zero hour . . . unless you want to get in hot dutch with her parents. You may think you're pretty good at alibis . . . but they won't always go over. And no guy goes over big if he can't tell time. Just deliver Susie home from the big dance at four in the dawn . . . do it just once . . . and you won't be welcomed at her house again. If she gets in a jam because she stayed out too late with you . . . she'll so thanks the next time you ask her. Susie's parents aren't jailers, but they worry themselves into nubbins . . . they pace the floor . . . they look up the telephone numbers of police and hospitals . . . they call accidents and deaths . . . all because you won't cut your fun short to save Susie's bacon.

Now you have a general idea how long it's going to take to get the evening's doings food. Mention the hour to your girl's parents . . . to get their okay . . . then go your blithe way. And if something happens to delay you give them a buzz and explain. They'll appreciate your thoughtfulness . . . and will be less inclined to sniff in Susie's direction.

CHOOSE YOUR DATE with an eye on her clock. Maybe Mary-Lou has to be in at ten-thirty every night regardless. There's no point in thinking of her if the party you're planning is one of those one-night stands. It's too bad . . . because Mary-Lou would be fun. But getting her home on time would be too much of a problem. Take Mary-Lou to the movies or skating or to the canteen. You can leave whenever . . . and it may as well be ten o'clock. And if evenings with her are too short . . . you can always get started earlier. If the party looks like a late one . . . take Carol, who carries her own key . . . and comes from a long line of night owls.

If you're going steady . . . you know your steady girl's timetable. But if you're free-lancing . . . you'll have to investigate. It's up to you to find out what time your girl has to be home. And then see that she gets there!

If something is getting you down . . . spill it in a letter to Elizabeth Woodward . . . she'll be glad to help you. Write her in care of this paper . . . and enclose a stamped and addressed envelope.

War Services Council Report Reveals Numerous Activities

The voluntary donations of labor, goods and services which have, in the last year through the centralized organization contributed to the needs of members of the armed services and ex-service personnel, passed in review Thursday through the annual report of the War Services Council of Northern Alberta.

DRAWN UP BY Harold L. Weir, council chairman, and various committee heads, the report deals with the year 1945 afd outlines particulars regarding financing, the work of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, hospital visiting and entertainment committees, service-women's section, magazine depot, Salvation Army hostel and the Central Committee of Regimental Auxiliaries.

Among numerous donations made by the board, some of the largest were: $1,246 to the United Services (YMCA) Club; $1,734 to the Canadian Legion hut at the Prince of Wales armory; general operating expenses of 299 and 657 to Knights of Columbus, Northwest Air Command, RCAF. Expenditures on behalf of military and DVA hospitals amounted to $2,996.

ON THE OPPOSITE SIDE of the ledger, donations received by the board included $780 from the War Services Bookstore; $500 from the Edmonton Gyro Club, and $506 from the Allied Arts Council. Nine other organizations are credited with donations in the report.

The finance report makes special mention of the following:

The Associated Canine Clubs of Edmonton donated to the War Services Council a station wagon which is used exclusively as a convalescent veterans' transport. The car is driven by volunteer drivers.

The Edmonton Theatres Association donated free theatre tickets to men who returned home on furlough from theatres of war, and more recently, donated an unlimited number of passes to patients from military hospitals.

THE CITY OF EDMONTON donated free street car tickets to men who returned home on furlough from theatres of war, and more recently, donated a number of tickets each month to each military and DVA hospital.

The Edmonton Exhibition Association donates free passes to hockey games and other sporting events.

Various other theatres, clubs and organizations, who when sponsoring any kind of program with special talent have given seats gratis to veteran patients.

The Northwest Air Command, RCAF, had been generous in providing transportation for large numbers of men to special events mentioned above.

ALL VOLUNTEER WORKERS who assist the hospital visiting and entertainment committees in providing recreation for the patients in military and DVA hospitals won special thanks.

The following general reports were submitted by committee chairmen:

Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, chairman, H. Guy Greenwood: A number of recommendations from this council were presented to various authorities such as the federal and provincial governments and the city. Many became effective, for example, veterans purchasing city lots, city authorities granted a discount of 10 per cent to veterans purchasing the lots. This was increased later to 20 per cent. The Veterans' Land Act committee was instrumental in getting the federal and provincial governments to come to an agreement whereby veterans desiring to farm on provincial lease land may now participate in the benefits provided under this act.

Seriously Disabled Veterans: The Kiwanis rehabilitation committee had 119 cases reported to them; 63 of these cases have been closed, 56 are still active.

Chamber of Commerce Advisory Committee for Veterans: Much valuable advice on financial, business and legal problems has been given veterans by this committee.

Employment Survey: An employment survey was undertaken by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Booklet "Welcome Home to Edmonton": Ten thousand copies have been issued to veterans.

Racketeering: Several cases of property owners having sold houses to veterans at considerably more than their actual value were brought to the attention of the council; one property-owner, after a good deal of discussion, reluctantly agreed to cut down the price of two houses by $200 and $250 respectively.

Housing: The intensive campaign for emergency housing accommodation in Edmonton and district was arranged through this office and through co-opegation with the Emergency Accommodation Bureau placed a number of veterans in rooms, suites and houses.

Prefabricated huts: Prefabricated huts from Dawson Creek which were erected at Kingsway, were advertised for sale at $675; council appraisers inspected them, valued them at $245, and they are now advertised for sale at approximately the figure or less.

Woman Welfare Officer: Recommendation by the council that there should be a woman welfare officer appointed to the department of veterans' affairs resulted in Miss Agnes Smith being appointed.

General: The department of veterans' affairs in Ottawa and Edmonton recognized the value of the work the council is accomplishing, and gave every assistance. The council also is in direct contact with citizens' rehabilitation committees throughout the Dominion.

Hospital Visiting and Entertainment Committees, chairmen, Mrs. A. Taylor and Mrs. Jack Weber: At the request of the Department of Veterans Affairs and hospital authorities, the War Services Council originated and co-ordinated a system of hospital visiting so that all patients in DVA and military hospitals are visited regularly and receive comforts and entertainment.

Servicewomen's section, chairman, Mrs. A. Stuart McCormick: Following are some activities of the Servicewomen's Mothers' Club: On Dec. 19, 1944, 200 servicewomen were entertained at a tea; April 20, 1945, a tea was held in honor of overseas brides and 200 were present; April 21 this club supplied supper to service personnel and friends at an open house dance; June 7 a Baby Bazaar was held; Sept. 10 the club began to welcome home servicewomen by meeting trains twice each day and all special trains. To date more than 200 trains have been met; Nov. 22 all ex-servicewomen in the city were entertained at the YW CA; Christmas boxes were sent to servicewomen overseas. During the past year all servicewomen ill in hospital were visited. The Servicewomen's Mothers Club has a membership of 77 mothers of servicewomen.

Magazine Depot, chairman, Jas. M. Kline: A total of 100,000 magazines were shipped. Two tag days of the six granted were held. The Central Committee sponsored a well-attended tea in the Memorial hall on April 20 to give members the opportunity to meet Harper Prowse, MLA. Lt. Col. Mary Dover CFAC, director of recruiting in Canada, spoke briefly.

Donations from various auxiliaries were made to the Mewburn wing at the University hospital, and the convalescent home at Government House.

The Central Committee sponsored a cooking school for British war brides at MacKay Avenue school, led by Miss B. Williams, director of home economics for Edmonton Public Schools. Booklet Provides Historical Data About Province

In Volume 1, No. 4, of the Alberta Folklore Quarterly, which has been received, Philip H. Goodsell, the editor, and his editorial board, have achieved another notable contribution to historical data and information on Alberta.

AS WAS THE CASE with its predecessors, this volume is attractively produced and contains a wealth of good reading, with a considerable amount of information that will come as entirely new material to most readers.

The cover is blue and white and depicts an Indian cavalcade coming into Edmonton in "the good old days." There is an engrossing article by the late the Rev. Alfred Garrioch on "Female Moses of the Peace," which tells of the panning of gold in 1878 at Fort St. John by an Englishman named Armson with Nigger Dan Williams, Banjo Mike and Twelve-Foot Davis.

HOW CHRISTMAS was spent at old Fort Edmonton in 1863 is told in another story and names familiar with this city and the west are recalled—Father Lacombe, Chief Factor Rowland, Chief Crowfoot and others.

Jean W. Goodsell contributes a story entitled "The Crimson Stain" which not only testifies to Mrs. Goodsell's ability as a writer but shows she is a valued addition to this city's literary circle. Mr. Goodsell contributes "The Hermit of the Barrens" in which much light is shed on the life and career of Jack Hornby who earned the sobriquet of "The Hermit of the Barrens."

THESE ARE BUT A FEW of the many excellent, informative and entertaining articles and stories included in the Alberta Folklore Quarterly.

CNR Engineer Retires After Long Service

Engineer Jack H. McLean, 11314 102 avenue, pulled his last train into the CNR station Tuesday night, after more than 40 years on the job, first as a fireman and then as an engineer.

NOW 65 YEARS OLD, Mr. McLean is retiring following an active life in which he has seen Canada's railways grow and expand stretching into new and growing towns. He has as yet no plans for the future, except that he and his wife intend to make their home in British Columbia.

The only comment Mr. McLean had to make on the improvements made in engines from the earlier days was "they are becoming bigger and more complicated all the time."

One exploit Mr. McLean spoke of occurred when he was on the run from Edmonton to Wolf Creek in the year 1910. He related "the run from Pembineau to Wolf Creek was skeleton track and every once in a while the train would jump the rail. Consequently it took two nights and two days to make the trip. The same distance can now be made in one and one-half hours.

"ONE PASSENGER," Mr. Mclean went on, "missed his dog when they reached Carrot Creek so he walked back to the station before Carrot Creek, found his dog, and then, still walking, he caught up to the train when it arrived one station passed Carrot Creek at Peers."

The retiring engineer said that a good number of the people walked the last six miles into Wolf Creek and were there hours before the train arrived.

The conductor who made that memorable trip with him was William MacDonell, the same man who was conductor on his last trip Tuesday night.

MR. McLEAN ALSO made a good many runs over the line which ran on the south side of the Athabasca river near Brule Lake. He spoke of the sand dunes encountered here which caused the trains to be derailed quite frequently. Because of its danger to rail traffic this line was abandoned.

The first station west of Entrance along this line was Dyke and Mr. McLean said that a few years after the line had been abandoned he went back to his old haunts there and to his surprise he found only the chimney of the station showing above the drifted sands.

Born in Sydney, Nova Scotia, Mr. McLean came in 1901 to Manitoba. In 1902 he started his railway career with the CPR on the cut off Calgary. Later he was employed by the GTP and then in 1920 he became an employee of the CNR. He came to Edmonton in January, 1939 and since that time has been on the east and west divisions of the transcontinental run out of the city.

Voices Warning Too Much Haste At Ottawa Meet

Confidence that Alberta's representatives at the Dominion-provincial conference would not be rushed into any hasty action which would make it more difficult to carry the all-important projects which demand attention in this province was expressed by H. B. Macdonald (Ind.-Calgary) when he took part in the debate on the Speech from the Throne at Wednesday afternoon's sitting of the Legislative Assembly.

"I BELIEVE provincial powers must be fully restored for the simple reason that better and more economical government is possible when laws are made and administered close to the people," Mr. Macdonald said.

"Our task now that the war is over," the Calgary member continued, "is to assume our rightful inheritance of government in this province and to see that we have adequate means to exercise that function in the best interests of the people."

He typified the proposal advanced by the federal government at the first meeting of the conferences as "wholly inadequate for the needs of the province," and stated that had they been adopted the people of the province would have been left with a sense of frustration since progressive planning then would have been impossible.

As soon as an agreement is reached with the Dominion government on taxation procedure, he insisted that the provincial government should at once undertake a survey of the tax situation in Alberta.

"OUR SYSTEM TODAY with sixty per cent of our total taxes derived from gasoline and motor taxes and liquor profits is not very equitable," he said and urged that a way be found to widen the tax base.

He commended the government for the undertaking made in the Speech from the Throne to begin a five year plan of road building, which he presumed was in line with the suggestions of the post war reconstruction committee's recommendations that expenditure of 120 million dollars be undertaken to provide the province with adequate highways, which would attract many more millions of tourists from the United States.

"Tourist traffic from the United States is so important to our national economy that our highway system should become a national project," he urged as he supported a proposal from the Calgary and other boards of trade that the Dominion provide financial aid to the provinces for the construction of roads.

HE OUTLINED the resolutions which the boards of trade mentioned previously had forwarded to the Dominion government, all of which considered aspects of the favorable results which would accrue from a good highway system.

The most important of the resolutions was that which pointed out that by road improvement and the predicted increase in the flow of tourists a more favorable balance of trade would be created and the standard of living in Canada would be raised.

The spending of large sums on our national parks—"one of finest systems in the world"—would almost seem to be for the benefit of those people living right by the park gates, since there is no highway system leading to or from them.

ASSURANCE has been given by experts in the tourist traffic that the amount of such traffic is governed entirely by the condition of the roads over which they pass, and, the Independent member continued, were our roads comparable to those south of the border the tourist would not turn back when he reached our border.

"It is time our government took energetic steps to foster civil aviation in this province," Mr. Macdonald said as he continued.

He charged that the Dominion government seems to be committed to a definite policy of state monopoly in civil aviation and "there is every indication that they have retarded rather than assisted the development of private flying in this province."

"The government should look into these matters and act during this session of the Legislature," he urged.

Irrigation and reforestration of the eastern slopes of Rocky Mountains will be necessary, Mr. Macdonald said, if we are to prevent our province from becoming little short of a desert. Serious danger threatens even now and action must be prompt if we are to keep the natural resources on at least an even keel for the generations still to inhabit this land.

As he concluded his address Mr. Macdonald turned to the problem of education in urging that facilities for the study of first year university courses be supplied to Calgary students.

About 400 ex-service men are taking pre-matriculation courses in Calgary at the present time, he said, and when they attain their matriculation they will likely be coming to Edmonton to enter university, and increase the congestion in this already crowded city.

Varsity Students Oppose Politics

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21.—(CP)—University of British Columbia students in a plebiscite yesterday voted 1,558 to 611 against allowing any political organization from forming affiliations on the campus. Decision to hold the plebiscite was made following a request by Gordon Martin, president of the Labor Progressive Party organization.

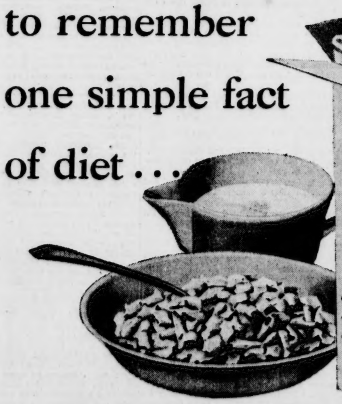
"But I don't want any more free samples!"

The famous 30-day test has convinced thousands how important it is to remember one simple fact of diet . . .



THREE TO ONE SAY KELLOGG'S ARE FAVOURITE! Yes, in a recent survey, 3 times as many housewives voted "Kellogg's" their favourite Bran Flakes as named any other brand. Look for the golden-yellow package at your grocers—try the large, thrifty size!

and how downright good Kellogg's Bran Flakes TASTE!

ON EDGE ALL THE TIME . . . because I forgot one simple fact. Then I tried Kellogg's 30-day test. That simple change of diet really helped me keep fit . . . feel grand during working hours, too.

MAKE THIS 30-DAY TEST

1. If you're really ill, see your doctor! But if you are just feeling dull and headachey, depressed or cranky all the time, you may only be suffering from incomplete elimination. This is especially true if you're over 35! Yet there's no need to let it make your work a grind or spoil your fun! Just take this simple precaution:

2. Start now, to eat Kellogg's Bran Flakes every morning. To keep fit the natural way, get more of the "bulk" your system needs by eating delicious, gently laxative Kellogg's Bran Flakes With Other Parts Of Wheat. They help keep food wastes moving promptly, supply valuable minerals and proteins, too.

3. Just thirty days and you'll prove it for yourself! Simply eat a big, crisp bowlful of Kellogg's Bran Flakes every morning. You should soon see what it's like to feel on top of the world again—with lots of energy for extra things. And Kellogg's are so downright delicious you'll never want to give them up!

Keep fit with Kellogg's every day in the year!

This Will Help

Any ex-soldier will testify that an army hut could be improved upon as a place of permanent residence. But also that such a building is reasonably comfortable as temporary accommodation.

The plan of the city to take over 118 huts located at the U.S. Army Air Force camp in Edmonton will provide such accommodation for some dozens of families, or for a larger number of people if used to house single men. The lay-out of the camp makes the buildings more suitable for the latter purpose than for family-occupancy, since the huts are not provided with individual sanitary services.

But in the present emergent circumstances any quarters which can be kept clean and warm are in keen demand, and this addition to the available housing supply will be welcomed as an easement of the congestion.

It is unfortunate that use of these buildings could not be obtained sooner, but as the winter is now well along tenants should experience little discomfort when the necessary alterations have been made.

The city council deserves credit for moving to secure these huts, and the RCAF for co-operating to make them temporarily open to civilian occupancy.

Legal to Deport

The Supreme Court of Canada, by a majority opinion, has handed down a decision that the federal Government has power to deport some 15,000 of the 24,000 Japanese now resident in Canada.

It is a sane and valuable decision, not only as it affects Japanese, but in laying down a general principle of citizenship. For this decision implies, if it does not say so plainly, that there is nothing in Canadian law to compel Canadian society to retain indigestible and unassimilable racial elements if it is the desire of the majority that these unassimilable elements be ejected.

It is true that the rights of citizenship must be protected, that no process of law nor interpretation of law should be allowed to sever a citizen from his national family. But it is equally true that a citizen, no matter what legal rights of citizenship have been conferred upon him, sets himself apart from his national family when he ceases to be loyal to that family or when he places other national loyalties ahead of it.

In such cases it is not the state that effects the separation but the individual himself.

Every Japanese whom the government has ordered deported has expressed a wish to return to Japan. That in itself is prima facie evidence of disloyalty to Canada. The fact that some of these underwent a change of heart when Japan was occupied and, deciding that Canada would be more comfortable than an occupied Japan, petitioned to have their applications voided, does not alter the initial disloyalty.

Every form of nauseous sentimentalism has been exhausted in behalf of these people. There are even some religionists who protest that the expulsion of Japanese from Canada is an un-Christian act—as though this country were a promised land for all the faithful and that one could not be a Christian just as well in Japan as in Canada.

The whole point is that there is nothing in the Canadian constitution—or in Christian doctrine—which demands that to be good friends and neighbors with other nations we must harbor their nationals in our most intimate pockets.

The Supreme Court has said something of this kind.

Democracy?

Without reference to the charge that a Nazi state is being built up there, Argentina is just now supplying an instructive picture of how democratic machinery can work, or be prevented working, when the democratic spirit is lacking in a large element of the population.

Despatches from Buenos Aires say the coolest observers in the country doubt that the elections slated for Feb. 24th will really be held; and that if they are held and result in the defeat of the government, the ministers will refuse to turn over power to the victors at the polls.

There may not even be any election, they say, because if the government foresees defeat its followers will probably stage a "revolution", suspend the constitution, and carry on—which has been done before.

The Allies are paving the way for democratic rule in Japan and Germany, and encouraging its inception elsewhere. This is a benevolent service to the peoples concerned, and is relied upon to make the world safer than it has been. But it will not do to overestimate the workability of democratic institutions in all countries, or build too many hopes on these as safeguards of future peace.

In point of fact, outside the British Empire and the United States there are very few countries where anything fit to be called democratic rule has existed over any considerable period. It does not follow that better results may not be hoped for in other states in future. But the fact is not to be ignored, nor its implications thrown aside.

If people are to govern themselves with success they need something more than a well-drawn constitution. Argentina has that, and has long had it. The will to obey and uphold the constitution is the spirit of democracy.

Without that, the basic national law may be only a scrap of paper—and frequently is.

Radio and the News

Through its chief news editor, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has uttered a plaintive cry that the CBC is "facing a serious problem in the let-down in interest in news".

The complaint is too embracing. Newspapers have experienced no public apathy in news. What the CBC probably means is that the public is a trifle weary of the style of news dished up by the CBC.

That, in itself, implies no criticism of radio news broadcasts. It was to be expected that the brief and telegraphic headline style, to which all newscasts must conform, would lose popularity when the war was over for the simple reason that the radio usually had the advantage over newspapers in the time element. And with the world tottering on the edge of destruction, the radio could give an emergency service that the newspapers could not duplicate.

Today there is less urgency in the news and the average person is content with the more complete and carefully considered reports of world affairs given by newspapers even if it is necessary to wait an hour or so longer to get them.

But while the slackening of interest in radio newscasts in itself implies no criticism of these newscasts, there is no doubt that the style of these programs is a contributing factor to their waning popularity.

Newscasts have a tendency to run to one of three extremes. The average newscaster is either (a) so unctuously pontifical that his audience feels itself to be patronized, or (b) so solemnly tragic that the voice of doom reverberates even in announcements about ration coupons, or (c) so whipped up with wild excitement that the report of a curling bonspiel is hurled breathlessly into the same dramatic category as a national calamity.

There are two things that radio needs to learn. The first is that it cannot compete with newspapers in the purveying of straight news. The second is that extravagant histrionics have no part in even radio journalism.

The CBC should resign itself to both these facts.

The steel deadlock broken, there are still more than a million strike-idle in the United States, while telephone company employees voted to quit work and tie up the communication lines across 43 of the states. It only took Jap airmen about forty-five minutes to plunge our neighbors into war. It seems likely to take them more than that many weeks to get settled down to the peace and production of pre-Pearl Harbor days.

Foreign Vs. Domestic Policies—

What Happened at Yalta

Russia Remains "In Character"—Imperial, Tyrannical, Egalitarian—Calling for New Definitions of Democracy While Millions Are Being Uprooted From Their Countries, Fearing to Return to Their Native Homes

By Dorothy Thompson

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

Most important about the Yalta secret agreement are its manner and its establishment for Americans of a precedent. To persuade the Soviet Union to enter the war against Japan, the American president made concessions in disagreement with principles previously signed by the Big Three heads of the States—the Atlantic Charter.

Dorothy Thompson

The agreement was entered into without the knowledge of the American Secretary of State, to say nothing of the Senate, which shares treaty-making powers. Exactly as at Munich, which sets the pattern for all successive conferences, territory was disposed of without consultation with the most interested party—in this case China. Though the agreement was qualified by the words, "it is understood that the agreement will require concurrence of Chiang Kai-Shek," circumstances reduced it to an ultimatum.

The agreement is of vital importance especially as regards Manchuria, whose invasion, like the invasion of Poland, was an original cause of war. Dairen port becomes practically Russian under the phrase "internationalization" with pre-eminent rights of Russia safeguarded. Port Arthur becomes a Russian naval base. The Chinese Eastern and South Manchurian railroads will be operated by a Soviet-Chinese company, also with Russian rights guaranteed as "pre-eminent." Thus the promise of "China's full sovereignty in Manchuria" is entirely dependent on Russia's whim and is exactly as meaningful as the promise of a "strong, free and independent Poland."

JUST WHY THE SOVIETS should have been bribed by prodigious gains of territory and power to enter a war in which the Allies "sought no territorial aggrandizements" and when it was already almost over, remains an open question. The Soviet Union alone has collected territory and an extended sphere of influence as a result of every international agreement she has made since 1939.

In return for her pact of benevolent neutrality with Hitler, Russia received part of the Baltic states and took all of them, part of Finland, and part of Poland. When attacked by Germany she insisted that the Atlantic Charter prohibiting territorial gains date from 1941 instead of 1939 and thus her gains under Molotov-Ribbentrop pact was confirmed by the Allies. As "compensation" Poland was then handed, this time without the agreement of either the U.S.A. or Britain, approximately one-fourth of Germany—an act which amounted to the first partition of Europe, and will prove fateful.

Under whatever device of annexation or of "friendly governments" Russia has thus picked up most of Hitler's conquests in Eastern Europe and perhaps eventually will inherit the bulk of Japan's conquests on the Asiatic mainland. In the meantime, while successfully maintaining that in these areas other Allies may not interfere, in every other part of the world—Western Europe, the Mediterranean, the Middle East, and the South Pacific island countries—Russia demands to be heard.

ANOTHER ANGLE, however, must engage Americans. Russian expansionism, direct or indirect, involves new definitions of democracy, and effects radical changes in the systems under which people live, or hoped to live. Hundreds of thousands of Poles, for instance, and tens of thousands of Jugoslavs fear to return home or are escaping from their countries. In Eastern Europe millions, native to towns and villages for centuries, are forcibly uprooted.

All this is incompatible with western concepts of democracy, and defense of these policies force our own people to re-define what they mean by "democracy". Probably Lincoln's Gettysburg formulation "government of, by, and for the people" has hitherto been the simplest and truest description. By the "new", and, apparently, to some of our liberals, superior "democracies" are, at best, governments "for" the people—neither "of" nor "by". We used to have an accurate name for this. It was not called "democracy" but "benevolent despotism".

NOW, A NATION cannot forever divorce foreign and domestic policies nor define democracy one way abroad and another at home. If over half the globe we accept as democracy despotic leadership procided it rests upon indoctrinated masses, brutal purging of all dissident minorities, and reducing the concept of elections containing the element of free choice to plebiscites which are nothing but the duty to confirm, we shall soon be put to it to explain why what we support for others is not good for ourselves.

The decline of a nation always sets in when it falls out of its own character. The Russians are not falling out of character. Despite their radical revolution Russia remains what she has always been; imperial, tyrannical, egalitarian, and messianic. It is the west that is falling out of character and especially the United States . . . that "sweet land of liberty" whom once we adjured in song to be ever-ready to die "to make men free".

Is There a Substitute for the Printed Word?

Books or Bread?

Swearing Off the Newspaper Is Found, by Actual Experiment, to Be a Whole Lot Harder Than Cutting Out Tobacco

By Bruce Hutchison

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

When you are forbidden to read anything for a week you suddenly realize what it means to be civilized. Our ancestors, no doubt, could get along very well in a state of what we call illiteracy for their eyes and minds were fully occupied in reading the heavens, the weather, the crops and the game trails. But when a modern man is cut off his reading he feels precisely as a healthy barbarian must have felt when he was cut off his food.

No one can suspect how dependent he is on newspapers, books and magazines until they are taken from him. The radio helps a little, but you quickly find that all the jargon of the commentators and news announcers is a very poor substitute for the written work when you cannot see it. All the radio programs lumped together make only a vague shadow of the news, a series of headlines, and if you relied on them you would be like a man looking at the Rocky Mountains through a fog. You would never see or suspect the wealth of treasure hidden in them, the individual shape of stone and tree and blossom.

AFTER LISTENING for a week to the radio I have come to the conclusion that it will never replace the written word, even when everybody is carrying around a walky-talky machine in his pocket. Apart altogether from the fact that the radio gives you only a digest of the facts, a kind of sugar-coated pill, there seems to be a curious communication in words, a contact of minds in print, which cannot be conveyed in any other fashion. Shakespeare would be only another radio announcer, quickly forgotten, if there were no printing.

Your dependence on 26 letters on a page of paper is a shocking thing when you are forced to realize it. Without them you are instantly cut off from the world, you are a blind man staggering through a crowded room and falling over the chairs. You may despise the world as you please, you may have no real understanding of events, and you may say that you hold the madness of our current civilization in contempt, but when you can't look at it through print you feel that you have lost your control over your own life.

NOT THAT YOU HAVE any control over anything these days, not that all your piety or wit can cancel half a line, nor all your tears wash out a word of it; but still, so long as you are in touch with events, you are at least a spectator who can cheer or boo the umpire and have the worth of your ticket of admission. Without print the game goes on without you and instead of the whole show spread before your eyes, there is only the second-hand account of the radio announcer, with all the finer plays blurred.

I have heard it said by vicious men who use tobacco that it is difficult to abandon that filthy habit. I have known unfortunate victims of this vice to become cranky, nervous and unkind to their wives when deprived of their drug. Fortunately, I have not experienced such a tribulation, having never attempted to stop smoking, but I am able to testify that swearing off the news is much more difficult than swearing off cigarettes. Only the body is penalized when the carnal appetites are curbed. When you cannot read you condemn the mind to starvation; and though the mind may not be much good, even when well fed, it is your own and you miss it when it is gone.

Pentecostal Miracle

WILSON HARRIS
IN THE SPECTATOR, LONDON

One other feature of the Court deserves special note, for it is, I imagine, unique in juristic practice.

In a corner, to the prisoners' left, is a small enclosure containing ten or a dozen translators. Four languages are needed for the Court proceedings—English, German, French and Russian— and by a miracle rather like that of Pentecost, any man in the Courtroom — Judge, prisoner, journalist, general public — can hear in his own language what is being spoken in some other.

It looks strange at first to see every person present, except the guards, with earphones on his head. They are fitted to every seat, together with a dial on which you turn a pointer to whatever language you need. The miracle is performed by the translators, who, as a speech is being made, or evidence given, speak the translation into microphones, each of which is connected with every seat in the Court.

The device was first practised at Geneva, and at Nuremberg it has its defects, not technical defects, but some inadequacy on the part of some translators.

British Isolation Is Russian Plan—

Today In Europe

United States Has Already Been Drugged Into Attitude of Neutrality in the Kremlin's Psychological War Against "Weakest" Link in the Capitalist Chain

By Randolph Churchill

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON. — More than two months ago, writing from Moscow, I said that the first objective of Russia's foreign policy was two generations of peace, but added that it was the intention of the Kremlin to continue to pursue an expansionist policy within such limits as did not involve war. I still believe this view to be substantially correct but, in the two months that have passed, many new factors have become apparent which reveal the tactics by which the Kremlin means to advance its world strategy.

CHURCHILL

The Russians apparently have decided that they have got all they are likely to get in the way of loot out of compromises and deals among the Big Three or the Big Five. They realize that UNO, where the small nations have some rights despite the veto power of the Big Five, is not likely to assist them in their imperialistic designs. They know that the free nations of the world possess overwhelming power which could, in the long run, frustrate their global and totalitarian ambitions.

THEY THEREFORE have decided to try and split the free nations and, in particular, to rupture the close relations which exist between the British Empire and the United States. To this end, they are adopting a policy of concentrating all their assaults on the British Empire, which they believe to be the weakest link in the chain of capitalist states which comprise the free world. Meantime all attacks on the United States have been called off with the idea of trying to isolate Britain and persuade the people of the United States that they are quite safe and that it is natural for the British to be under fire from Moscow because of their "wicked imperialism."

It must be admitted that the Kremlin already has had a measure of success in this new campaign. The American attitude at the recent meeting of UNO showed that the U. S. state department has decided to adopt what amounts to an almost neutral role in the war of nerves which the Kremlin has declared against the British Empire. The idea has been sedulously put about, and seems to have gained some currency in the United States, that the British Empire is no longer a great world power and that only Russia and the United States really qualify for this category.

IT SEEMS INCREDIBLE that anyone in the United States, which fought shoulder to shoulder with Britain and the British Commonwealth during the war, could be deceived by this absurd propaganda. But if we are to be forced by the Kremlin's use of naked power politics to consider the future of the world on these terms, let us evaluate the facts correctly. Russia, though a great European and a great Asiatic power, is not a first-class world power. There are only two first-class world powers—the United States and the British Empire.

In the wicked modern world in which we live and which certainly is becoming no more idealistic under the tuition of Molotov and Vishinsky, no nation or group of nations can be considered a first-class world power which possesses virtually no fleet, no strategic bombing force, no atom bomb. The shiver sisters and parlor pinks of the Western democracies do not like to discuss politics in these terms, but we had better all face the fact that this brutal vocabulary is being forced upon us by the Kremlin and that, if a free world is to survive without another ghastly war, the sooner we get used to thinking in these terms, the better.

Should Take Warning

GLASGOW HERALD

Suspicion, like jealousy, finds sustenance in trifles, but the results are by no means trifling. If the atom bomb has not done more harm to the Allies than it ever did to the enemy, it has at any rate enormously increased the difficulty of co-operation between the Great Powers, and has to that extent blighted some of the high hopes expressed at San Francisco last summer. It will take time to recover that spirit, but the delegates now assembling in Westminster should take warning from the grave valedictory words of the Secretary-General of the dying League of Nations: "The League did not fail. It was the nations which failed to use it." If they bear that lesson in mind they may eventually undo the harm that has already been done to the prospects of the United Nations.

An irate old gentleman strode into the railroad station and, without preamble, proceeded to tell off the ticket agent, including in his denunciation everybody from the president on down. He ended by lambasting the trains for their failure to run on time. The agent finally cut in with: "Do you do much travelling on this road?" "Don't do any," replied the man; "but on Sundays our preacher always finishes his sermon right after the noon train whistles—and the danged thing's been late the last three Sundays!"

Ministers' Salaries

Editor, Bulletin: About two months ago a discussion was brought up regarding Dominion cabinet ministers' salaries. One gentleman stated that the salary was $8,000 plus $4,000 sessional indemnity, plus $2,000 expenses. I said "No. the salary is $10,000 plus sessional indemnity plus $2,000 expenses or a total of $16,000."

Then a small bet was made and we telephoned your office. Your answer was as I stated above.

My opponent was not satisfied with your answer, so he telephoned an official at the legislative building and he said it was the former.

Then I phoned a law office of this city and they read to me from the 1945 Parliamentary Guide, as I have stated.

However, my opponent was still not convinced. So I phoned our member, Mr. P. Ashby, and his answer was in my favor.

This is still not enough.

Would you please be kind enough to publish this letter in The Bulletin where it will be conspicuous to my opponent.

Editor, Bulletin: We working girls feel very strongly concerning the subject of stockings. During the past six years when stockings have been hard to get, who has been getting them when they went on sale? Not the working girl who needs them more than the housewife! So! Today nylon stockings went on sale in the majority of the stores at 9.30 a.m., after the office girl had gone to work. We call this discrimination. What do you think? How about selling any kind of silk stockings (we aren't particular) just for the working girl. Of course, we would like to get a pair of nylons, too. After all, we are expected to look trim and neat, and are expected to wear stockings.

Stockings are not only essential now but will be in the future, and our post-war buying of stockings, and other things, will be governed by the treatment we have received from the stores during the past six years.

Corporation Income Tax

Editor, Bulletin: The corporation income tax appears to be a tax with many faults and one virtue—it doesn't tax you when you're in the red. The tax grew, as more revenue was required or governments became more callous, from one per cent in 1906 to 40 per cent in 1945.

A fair objection is that it results in double taxation—first as profits in the hands of the company, then the investor pays income tax on profits received as dividends. On the other hand, while interest rates were dropping from six to three per cent this tax was climbing—a sort of equalizer between dividends and interest rates. In view of this and the fact that venture capital deserves a higher return than interest rates this tax might be justified where capital is earning 10 per cent or higher profits. Unfortunately, the firm making a subnormal profit also has to pay the tax.

Excellence in manual skill or executive ability is taxed by a graded tax on income—salary limiting as it were—with subnormal incomes exempt. Why not a graduated instead of a fixed "profit limiting" corporation tax—based on percentage of profit earned on capital invested or book value of tangible assets?

The government provides tariffs and patents to boost prices. Hence, should it not protect consumers against execessive prices and drain off part of any overcharge or unusual profit by taxing greater profits more heavily?

A progressive tax—from 10 per cent on a five per cent profit to 30 per cent tax on a 15 per cent profit—plus 60 per cent of any further profit illustrates what I have in mind. True, we now have a 60 per cent tax on excess profits but this applies to any excess over average pre-war profits, whether moderate or excessive. If the latter, the tax does not apply until the excessive profit is exceeded.

All the talk about cartels and monopolies reminds one of Mark Twain's remark about the weather! How about a graduated corporation profit tax?

Alberta District News Briefs

Westlock Council Meet Raps Education Need

WESTLOCK. — Education costs and the tax system came in for criticism at the annual meeting of the Westlock District Municipal Council here. The meeting culminated in a motion that the province be asked to pay 50 per cent of primary and secondary school education costs.

IT WAS POINTED out in the motion that the present rate of taxation was excessive and that the province lagged behind other provinces in the contribution to education charges.

The discussion on school taxation came as the result of a question asked by a Smoky Lake resident as to whether or not there was any limit to the extent of taxation which might be reached by a municipality in providing for the requisition of the school board. It was claimed by the questioner that his school board was "exceeding the limit of common sense in making provision for education" in that district.

L. W. Kunelius, school superintendent, declared that he had encountered a strong feeling in the province that the municipalities were taking advantage of the school tax arrears collection, using it for the municipality and its affairs, when 100 per cent of the school levy was imposed and no provision made to include arrears in the yearly estimate of income.

INSOMNIA OR WAKEFULNESS

In our present stage of evolution it is necessary for us to spend about a third of our time in sleep. Sleep seems to be a state of self-hypnosis, during which time the body is able to rest and to overcome the effect of the fatigue poisons which have accumulated during the hours of activity. Also, during sleep, the nerve cells appear to be restored.

The inability to sleep may arise from either mental or physical causes. I have had many patients tell me they were sleepy until they went to bed, after which they became wide awake. If a person believes he will fall asleep as soon as his head hits the pillow, he usually will. However, there are many physical and mental causes capable of producing wakefulness and the best results will only come when these causes are found and removed in the individual case.

As a general rule the most likely physical cause will be found to be an irritation arising in the digestive tract. The use of incorrect food combinations at the evening meal, leading to the formation of excessive gas is one of the principal causes of insomnia. When this is the cause, the patient will find that such a simple measure as taking a plain warm enema will induce almost immediate relief so that he can return to bed and fall into a sound, restful slumber.

In some cases the sleep disturbance may originate in a faulty mattress, the distraction arising from noise, or the habit of taking your troubles to bed with you and worrying about them. Very often the cause lies in not enough exercise being taken to induce a normal, healthy tiredness of the muscles. If your work is of the mental type, then you will not obtain enough exercise during working hours to bring about physical fatigue and you should devote at least part of the evening to physical activity.

Sleep is a normal process and occurs almost automatically in the person of sound health. If you find it difficult to sleep at night, you must realize that the habits which you are allowing to dominate your waking day are playing a large part in keeping you from sleeping at night. It is probably not so much what happens at night which keeps you awake, as what happens in the daytime.

Most cases of insomnia are curable and the average patient will be greatly helped by using a treatment for removing stomach and intestinal irritation, by increasing his exercise, and my learning how to use good suggestions. The next time you are troubled with insomnia, take an enema, then return to bed and imagine your arms and legs are very heavy. Try to imagine that these members are so heavy that you can not lift them. Then take the word "sleep" and repeat it softly to yourself, and you will probably go to sleep.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Debunker

Color-music which has been featured in recent years as something new is actually quite old. The basic idea is that the music is accompanied by color-effects which express various tones. As early as 1725 Louis Castel, a French Jesuit, illustrated the analogy between the various tones and the colors of the spectrum. He built an instrument called the "clavecin oculaire" for presenting the colors with their corresponding tones. Blue, yellow and red were made to correspond with do, mi, so of the scale. Numerous other attempts at the same thing followed his experiments.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

OVER the first hurdle in the Intermediate playdowns, Jimmie Graham's Independent League All-Stars meet Cadomin in the opening game of the two round at the Arena here on Monday night and the winner of that series will take on the survivor of Wetaskiwin-Red Deer for the right to represent Northern Alberta.

All-Stars had no easy session with Camrose last night despite the fact they went in with a two-goal margin. The 4-3 lead which Maroons were nursing looked fairly substantial until the Independents came through with the evener just after several minutes of the final chapter. Graham's crew will take considerable persuading before abandoning the playoff trail. The club which beats the All-Stars will have to be pretty sharp—if you have any doubts about that, just check with Harvey Marples, manager of the team.

DANNY McGILL, six-year old Camrose citizen, in addition to discharging the duties encumbent upon him as mascot of the Maroons, took time out to get a press box bird's eye view (beside Camrose Canadian's reporter Bob Dowling) of the third period, in the Maroon-All Star game at the arena here Wednesday night.

Appearing on the ice in his Maroon suit which carries number ½, Danny "scored" several goals during the second intermission and received a real hand from the crowd for his efforts. Incidentally, he skates very well and is a right hand shot.

The Camrose mascot seemed rather disgusted though, with the final result of the game, his official comment being, "We should have beat those fellows". Just to finish off the evening, Danny took a whirl at broadcasting. As a starter to CKUA Don Warner's urging to "tell them what you are Danny", came the response, "I'm six".

KEN HUNTER found the Saskatoon Elks in a stingy mood in the matter of points at Calgary last night and as a result Bob Carse is still riding along with a margin of four. Calgary, however, still has night four games to come, as compared to three for the Flyers.

It can be taken for granted, however, in view of recent performances here the Saskatoon tribe will be tough to score on tonight and that points will be decidedly scarce both ways. Edmonton edged out the Elks 2-1 at the arena on Feb. 5 and by 3-2 Jan. 19, both games being carried into overtime.

JACK MANSON, Maple Leaf goalie injured in the junior playoff game Tuesday night, is coming along nicely but he's still in hospital. There's probably little doubt though of Jack's being willing to barter off those 26 stitches for a goal stick any time now. Leafs are entered in the junior "B" playdowns for Alberta, with EAC understood to be their first opponents in the coming eliminations.

Brandon Elks apparently had considerable difficulty in disposing of Winnipeg Rangers 6-4 Wednesday night, as the first of their Manitoba semi-finals. Bing Juckes scored four of the Brandon goals, while Bill Johnson, who was with Canadians here earlier in the season, counted one for Rangers.

PHIL HORN, director of both juvenile and midget hockey in Edmonton, evidently is an advocate of photo finishes when playoff time rolls around. EAC North eventually took a hair-line decision in the midget division and the juvenile marathon between Maple Leafs and Canadians hasn't been concluded yet, although four games have been played.

Canadians took the first two, the Maple Leafs replied with one win and the next game went into minus overtime without breaking the deadlock. The fifth of the series is scheduled for 119 street rink today.

Edmonton's Intermediate Entry Advances in Alberta Playdowns

Independent All-Stars Beat Camrose 5-4

Win Round By Margin Three Goals

By DON McCULLOUGH

Edmonton's Independent All-Stars won a berth in the northern Alberta intermediate semi-finals at the arena here Wednesday night, coming from behind with a two-goal attack in the third period to down the Camrose Maroons 5-4 in the second of the home-and-home total goal series. The All-Stars took the first on Camrose ice last Saturday 3-1 and thus win the round 5-5. About 2,300 saw the game.

Colin Kilburn, appearing for the first time in the final canto, teamed up with Ken Cox for both the tying and winning tallies.

Cox displayed a standout brand of puckchasing throughout the tilt, scoring once and assisting on three other All Star counters.

WALLY DUTCHAK put the visitors in the lead on an unassisted drive launched before the first period was five minutes old. Russ Klesko tied the count 40 seconds later, banging in the marker on pass-out from Ken Cox and Bill Dawe.

John Voytechek ended a scramble around the All Stars' net by grabbing the puck out from a tangle of players and drilling a high shot which bounced off Goalie Tom Motherhead's arm and dropped into the net, putting the Maroons back in front 2-1.

Bob David locked the score at 2-2 and ended the goal-getting for the period, taking relays from Bob Fleming and Louis Holmes to drive the disc in behind Wilbur Delainey.

SPEARHEADING a smooth Camrose foray early in the second heat, Mike Petasky came boring in from the left wing, took a pass from John Voytechek and whipped the puck in between Motterhead's legs putting the visiting sextet out in front 3-2. The count went to 3-3 at 13:13, when Ken Cox teamed up with Bill Dawe and went racing around the Camrose defence to score. Maroons ended the stanza leading 4-3, Len Roberts breaking the deadlock when he clicked on a fast pass from Pete Gregor.

Bill Richardson, a recent Cleveland Barons acquisition, turned in a stellar game for the Maroons, despite the fact he did not break into the scoring lists. His whirlwind rushes usually found him deep in the All-Star territory with no one to check him and his sharply long shots which never registered.

COLIN KILBURN came onto the ice in the final heat driving in with team-mate Ken Cox at the six minute mark to tie up the count. The Camrose squad built up the pressure for the next five minutes in a vain attempt to break up the deadlock. Edmonton's Saturday night win had given the All Stars a two-goal margin to coast on, and the Maroons needed three tallies to win the series.

They gave goalie Tom Motters-head a busy time carrying the fight to the home sextet throughout the first half of the frame.

WITH EIGHT MINUTES left to play Cox got the puck at centre ice and raced through the Camrose forwards, gave the fans a brilliant stickhandling exhibition as he slipped past the defencemen, pulled Delaney over to the right side of the net, then relayed the rubber to Kilburn who banked in the winner.

That wound up the scoring of one of the fastest, cleanest games played in intermediate circles at the Arena in many a moon.

The several hundred ardent Camrose fans who came to the city by special train to cheer their team left with the satisfaction of knowing that the Maroons put up a fight well worth travelling twice the distance to witness.

Clutterham Cops Challenge As Veterans' Bonspiel Ends

A. B. Clutterham and his Tofield curlers walked off with the grand challenge honors and Gravelle cup in the Northern Alberta Veterans' Curling Association bonspiel Wednesday afternoon when they defeated the W. T. Coote rink by the slim margin of 12-11 in the final at the Granite.

A. A. Hill of the Edmonton Club came through in the McLafferty (secondary final) and in the other competition, the Gregory cup, R. R. Thompson of the Granite came out on top.

Hill, winner of the grand challenge with five straight victories last year, won out over the A. Carscadden rink of Fort Saskatchewan, skipped by D. Wright, 15-6 in the final and Thompson edged out Jack Colville of Alberta Avenue 13-9 in the Gregory final.

H. S. Hegler of Granite defeated W. G. Townsley of Alberta Avenue 15-11 in the playoff for third and fourth in the challenge; Harry Christman of the Thistle won out over H. W. Morgan of Granite 13-9 in the final for third and fourth in the McLafferty and F. A. Austin of the Royal downed W. Carter of the Edmonton Club 10-9 in the playoff for third and fourth in the Gregory.

GRAND CHALLENGE

In winning the grand challenge, Skip Clutterham, who has been coming here for the last six years each time the Vets' bonspiel rolls around, came in for a perfect shot with his last rock to count two on the 12th end.

The veteran Tofield curler was never behind until the 11th when Coote counted one to go ahead.

McLAFFERTY FINAL

A. A. Hill and his Edmonton Club curlers found the going fairly easy in the secondary final, marking up a count of a five over the 12-end route in addition to one two and three ones. The Carscadden quartet of Fort Saskatchewan was only able to count on five ends.

Score by ends:

Hill	.....	140	104	010	205	—15

GREGORY CUP

Counting on the first five ends proved the margin of victory for P. R. Thompson over Jack Colville in the Gregory Cup final. The Granite rink only counted six on these five, but the Colville quartet was unable to overcome the margin.

Saskatoon Rally Almost Clicks

Calgary Squeezes Through With 3-2 Victory Over Elks

CALGARY, Feb. 21—(CP)—Calgary Stampeders staved off a strong third period rally by Saskatoon Elks here Wednesday night to score a 3-2 triumph and tighten their hold on top place in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League.

Grant of Calgary took scoring honors with a goal and an assist. Fisher and Michaluk counted the other goals while Hulme and Ullyot scored for Saskatoon. Ken Hunter, running a close second to Bobby Carse in the individual scoring race, failed to add any points.

A CROWD OF 3,735 fans witnessed Calgary take an early 2-0 lead, increase it to 3-0 in the second period and barely cling to the lead in the third period as the fast-skating Elks whipped in two goals.

Stampeders, who have beaten Elks eight out of nine games all season, were badly off form last night and lacked finish in passing and around the nets.

FOR THE FIRST two periods Stampeders held the majority of play and kept Saskatoon goalie, Ralph Almas, busy making saves. In the third period Elks started to hit their stride and played five men up throughout the stanza in an effort to tie the game.

Calgary rightwinger, Joe Fisher, opened the scoring when he took a pass from Bunny Dame to beat Almas on a hard 15-foot drive. Less than two minutes later Art Michaluk took Dunc Grant's rebound to put Calgary ahead 2-0.

DUNC GRANT scored Calgary's third goal when he took a long pass from Johnny McIntyre, stickhandled past Bill Dertell and flipped the puck past Almas for the only goal of the middle stanza.

With Bunny Dame serving a penalty at the start of the third period, Hulme took a pass from Lundy less than a minute after the session had started to open the Saskatoon scoring. Saskatoon fought grimly to try and catch Stamps but it wasn't until the 16 minute mark that Ullyot broke through and drove a hard shot at Dertell, who was out of position.

Detroit Stops Canadiens 2-1 To Tighten Grip on 4th Spot

MONTREAL, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Goals by Bill Quackenbush and Eddie Bruneteau plus some miraculous gymnastics by Goalie Harry Lumley in keeping his cage clear for more than two periods, gave Detroit Red Wings a 2-1 victory over Montreal Canadiens here Wednesday night before a capacity crowd of some 12,500 fans.

The Detroit victory snapped a five-game winning streak by Canadiens and strengthened Red Wings' fourth place playoff berth. Red Wings also broke the jinx that seemed to prevail against them whenever they played in Montreal and last night's victory was their first here in more than three years.

The game ended in a breath-taking flurry of action as Canadiens who had finally broken into the scoring column near the 16-minute mark shot everything but the nets at Lumley in an effort to knot the count but their hopes were spoiled by Jimmy Peters who was handed a high-sticking penalty when he looked as though nothing could stop Canucks.

Youthful Lumley turned in the most spectacular goaltending performance of the season on Forum ice and he wholly responsible for turning into victory what would surely have been a Detroit loss, although he received strong support by Burly Jack Stewart at the Red Wing blueline.

Lumley seemed to combine luck with skill and no less than 20 of his stops were nothing short of miraculous as he sprawled, dived in every direction to save labelled drives.

Jack Stewart was also effective on the Detroit defence and handed some masterful bodychecks to slow down the attacking Canadiens.

LINEUPS

Detroit—Lumley; Stewart, Quackenbush; E. Bruneau; Watson, Armstrong.

Subs—Jackson, Hollett, Liscombe, Abel, Brown, Carveth, Lindsay, Costello, Couture.

HAWKS WITHIN ONE POINT OF MONTREAL

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Chicago Black Hawks climbed to within one point of first-place Montreal in the National Hockey League Wednesday night as they defeated Boston Bruins 4-3, to break a second-place deadlock in a rough game before 17,358 fans.

The victory came as Montreal lost to fourth-place Detroit, 3-1, and re-established the in-again-out-again first place battle that has featured games involving the Montreal - Chicago - Boston triumvirate for the last six weeks.

Chicago was off to an early start in last night's encounter and never was headed. Both teams spurned caution as the two goalies, veteran Mike Karakas of the Hawks and Frank (Zero) Brimsek of the Bruins held the score down.

THE HAWKS scored their first goal at three minutes and 30 seconds of the first period, with Defenceman Eddie Wares skating up from the blue line to take a short pass from Bill Mosienko and flip it into the cage. Max Bentley also was given an assist.

George Allen, another defenceman, scored Chicago's second goal after 13 minutes of the second period on a 60-foot shot after he took a pass from Pete Horeck.

Four minutes later Don Gallinger broke through to score Boston's first goal, with Bill Shill getting an assist.

In the final period the Hawks scored twice in rapid succession to take the lead that gave them victory. Red Hamill pushed a short shot into the corner of the cage on an assist from George Gee, and Bill Mosienko skated through the Boston defence to score another.

Boston stormed back with Woody Dumart scoring an unassisted goal when he caught the Hawk defence off guard. Ken Smith added the final goal on assists from Jack Crawford and Bill Shill.

The victory may have been costly for the Hawks. Max Bentley suffered a leg injury in the second period and he may be out for the next two or three weeks. It was while he lay on the ice that Boston scored its first goal.

Wetaskiwin Reaches Final In Central Alberta Playoffs

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

RED DEER, Feb. 21.—Wetaskiwin Colonels advanced into the finals of the Central Alberta Hockey League playoffs here on Wednesday night when they eked out an 8-6 win over Red Deer Ramblers in one of the hardest played games seen here this season.

The game was played on heavy ice but the teams maintained a speedy clip throughout. The largest crowd of the winter say the contest.

The first period ended 1-1 and the Colonels were out in front of a 5-3 tally at the close of the second. The locals matched Wetaskiwin's three goals in the last period, but fell short by a pair of goals. The winners showed a little better finish and their stiff defensive play was a little too much for Red Deer who were unable to get in close to finish many of their attacks.

There were plenty of dangerous thrusts on both goals in the early stages of the opening period, but the netminders came through time after time with smart saves. The first goal of the game was awarded to Red Deer when Hunt was closing in fast on the Wetaskiwin cage and a Wetaskiwin player threw his stick apparently in an effort to save a goal.

The referee awarded Red Deer a goal with Hunt getting credit for it.

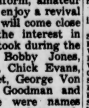
Golf

By BYRON NELSON

WITH most of our outstanding golfers back home and out of uniform, amateur golf is sure to enjoy a revival this year that will come close to equalling the interest in it sports fans took during the period when Bobby Jones, Jess Sweetser, Chick Evans, Francis Ouimet, George Von Elm, Johnny Goodman and Lawson Little were names that brought out huge galleries for the various amateur championships.

Any professional who hasn't played amateur golf has missed a lot. I only played as an amateur for a short time, but I am convinced there is considerable difference between playing golf for glory and playing it for money.



Nelson

For one thing, most amateur tournaments are match play. With only a few exceptions, professional tournaments are medal play. For another, there is more personal rivalry in amateur golf. You probably don't get it in professional golf because the average pro is too busy concentrating on his own game to give his rival the day much attention. He has had enough experience to realize that golf requires 100 per cent concentration.

IT TOOK QUITE a while after I became a professional for me to understand the difference between match and medal play. When I first began to play professional golf well enough so that the other pros were noticing me, they described me as "the boldest player they had ever seen." That was because, as a professional, I started right off shooting for the pin all the time just as I had when I was an amateur.

In match play it is a good idea to take all the chances you can unless you are well up on your opponent. If you should happen to lose a particular hole to him, you still have a chance to make it up on the next and you always have the possibility that while shooting for the pin you will pull off some sort of a spectacular shot which would have a disconcerting effect on your opponent. In match play you have a little the best of him if you're successful in doing that.

But I learned through sad experience that that wasn't the way to play medal golf. I'm still not what you would call a timid, cautious or conservative golfer, but I don't take the chances I took when I broke into the money ranks.

AMONG OTHER REASONS why amateur golf is bound to enjoy a boom during the next few years is older the fact that there are many young golfers coming along who are fine players right now. With so many open tournaments scheduled in so many sections of the country they're getting the opportunity to pit themselves against the best professionals in the world. Not only do they get a chance to play against them and see them in action, but they have an opportunity to talk over their golfing problems with them.

During the last golden era of amateur golf, of course, amateurs played against the top pros, but there weren't so many tournaments then and only a few of the amateurs got to play against and to meet and talk with the top professionals.

MOST CADDIES develop into good golfers for the same reasons this new crop of amateurs is going to be an exceptional one. Being around a golf course every day in the week they see all the good and bad golf players and they finally pick out somebody they think knows something about the game, study him, imitate him and talk to him about their golfing problems.

I for one certainly hope that there is another Bobby Jones in the current crop of amateurs. He would be a great stimulus to the game. And, with so many more people playing and watching golf than during the Jones' era, I'm sure that golf attendance records for all time would be broken.

Hold First Reunion

Friendships of Two Wars Renewed at SAR Dinner

Acquaintances of World Wars One and Two were renewed Wednesday evening at the reunion dinner and dance of the 29th Canadian Armored Reconnaissance Regiment (South Alberta Regiment) and veterans of the 31st Battalion who originally formed the unit during the war of 1914-18. The affair was held in the Macdonald.

MASTER OF CEREMONIES was T. B. Nash, formerly a lieutenant-colonel with the SAR. He welcomed the guests who were attending from distant points throughout Alberta and Saskatchewan, and proposed a toast to the absent comrades.

J. W. Proctor, a former associate with the regiment and recently appointed to command the 19th Alberta Armored Car Regt. as colonel, spoke briefly of the great work done by the regiment while overseas and invited members to join the unit which he has recently been appointed to command.

Alex Watson proposed a toast to the King, and R. A. Bradburn, former commander of the Algonquin Regiment, offered a toast to the city. The latter was replied to by Ald. Fred Mitchell, acting for Mayor Harry Ainlay.

THE NEXT SPEAKER was J. C. Jefferson, who offered a toast to the regiment. Mr. Jefferson, formerly commander of 10th Brigade of which the SAR was a part, told briefly of the regiment's actions during the battles of St. Lambert Sur Dives, Bergen Op Zoom and Oldenberg.

Lt.-Col. G. D. de S. Wotherspoon, DSO, who commanded the regiment through its actions in North-west Europe, responded to the toast to the regiment. He asked those who served under him to visit the next-of-kin of those whose sons did not return. He proposed a toast to the troops who supported the regiment and concluded with a toast to the ladies present.

Appreciation for the work done by the women's auxiliary was extended by W. W. Jellis on behalf of the regiment. He then presented Mrs. W. G. Paterson, president of the women's auxiliary, with a bouquet.

EXPRESSING THANKS on behalf of the auxiliary, Mrs. Paterson stated that their effort seemed small as compared with the job that the boys of the regiment had done for them.

A history of the regiment's actions has been compiled and is available to all members. Following addresses a brief intermission was called while preparations were made for the dance to follow.

Major Dave Curry, VC, won his award while in action with the SAR at Falaise. A member of the 31st Battalion who received the Victoria Cross during the war of 1914-18 was Lt.-Col. Harcus Strachan, who was serving with the Fort Garry Horse when he won the VC.

Honored guests among the 400 who attended were: Major and Mrs. H. E. McBain, Mr. and Mrs. W. W Jellis, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Paterson, Miss Nora Mitchell, Ald. Fred Mitchell, Lt. Col. and Mrs. T. B Nash, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jefferson, Lt. Col. and Mrs. G. D. de S. Wotherspoon, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bradburn, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Proctor, Maj. E. A. W. Miles, R. H. Allsop, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dodds and Mr. and Mrs. M. Aboussafy.

Bridge Opened

of the modernized fleet of Sorenson Bus Lines which contributed transportation for more than 100 businessmen and civic officials who arrived to pay their respects on the historic occasion from Red Deer, Calgary and Edmonton.

THE PARADE OF CARS continued for almost an hour and was estimated by one resident as numbering more than 600. Interspersed between the long line was "Topsy" a fiery little mare and first of the equine family to cross the span which links the east with Nordegg, 60 miles distant in the blue and mauve of the Rocky foothills. Topsy's rider, regaled in a five-gallon Mexican hat, chaps and trimmings, was Malcolm Atwater, 17, of Oras.

Loaded with wares representing the district's industries large commercial trucks filed over the handsomely orange painted bridge on the return trip. First and second over were the Atlas Lumber Company, with a load of newly-milled spruce and jackpine two-by-sixes; and Dezall Bros. of Raven with a load of bark-covered jackpine and spruce logs.

Busiest men during the dramatic ceremony were Mayor-elect J. N Cony, of Rocky Mountain House who acted as master of ceremonies, with Chief Constable A. Fraser with his deputies including Const. A. Cressman in charge of traffic regulation. Aided by other members of the RCMP, Sgt. R. F. Matheson, of the Edmonton detachment provincial patrol, represented the Redcoats for the province.

THE BRIDGE, CONSTRUCTED by the department of public works from materials supplied by the Dominion Bridge Company, Calgary, was begun in March, 1945, and was completed Wednesday at a cost of approximately $155,000. R. W. Reinboll, Edmonton, foreman of the project, was the recipient of many tributes during the day and again in the evening at a dinner in Rocky Mountain House Legion Hall sponsored by the board of trade and residents of the community.

Unusual significance attached to the opened artery provided by the new bridge is that it is an indispensable link in the David Thompson highway, which will run 118 miles west from Rocky to join the Banff-Jasper highway at the Saskatchewan bungalow cabins.

This highway, now passable for passenger cars, will make a loop from Edmonton and north through Red Deer and Rocky Mountain House to the Banff-Jasper road, then north and home through Jasper. The same route will be followed from Calgary and south from the Banff-Jasper highway to Lake Louise and Banff.

A LONESOME OBJECT with 25 years' service ahead it was raised on props to the left of the shining new bridge. It was the old ferry upon which the residents depended. Tacked on a cluster of poplars on the opposite side were two government notices, warning residents they must abide by the ferryman's judgment in loads to be carried by the ferry. The other was a list of prices for transporting vehicles during the night. Day ferrying was free of charge the notice proclaimed.

A resident of the district for many years, John Christensen, timekeeper, enthused when he was questioned on the value of the bridge to the community. He said it would be the means of increasing first of all the tourist traffic from all parts of North America, and secondly but not less important, it heralded a new era for the district in making possible an unending stream of traffic working in the lumbering and agricultural industries of that area.

DURING THE YEAR of its construction there had been no serious accidents, said Mr. Christensen, and only two and a half days were lost during the year, due mostly to icing conditions.

Greatest difficulty encountered during the year had been with the two centre piers, which had to be buried to bedrock. They required double coffer dams, he said, and required constant drainage because of the swift current of the North Saskatchewan.

There was a large representation from outside points. There were members of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, the Edmonton South Side Business Men's Association, the Edmonton, Calgary and Red Deer branches of the Alberta Motor Association, and delegates from Nordegg, Saunders, Alexo, Vegreville, Alhambra, Stettler, Innisfail, Eckville, Condor, Sylvan Lake, Benalto, Leslieville, and Banff.

A METROPOLITAN atmosphere surrounded the thriving Rocky Mountain House centre as public officials, the RCMP and local natily-uniformed police mingled with the huge throng as photographers and newsmen from various parts of the province busied themselves in writing and picturizing one of Alberta's greatest and most historic advancements.

The public holiday proclaimed by Mayor Cony had been an unqualified success and the crowds that gathered in the town eagerly awaited commencement of the evening arrangements, which took the form of a dinner and speakers, with the showing of films followed by a dance sponsored by the Kinsmen club.

Sask. Disappointed At Finding Reached On Jap Deportation

REGINA, Feb. 21—(CP)—Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan last night expressed disappointment with the majority decision of the Supreme Court of Canada that the federal government had the right to deport Japanese and said he believed it would "have unfortunate consequences in the future."

"I am disappointed in the decision because I believe it will set a precedent that will have unfortunate consequences in the future," the premier said. "The right to revoke a man's citizenship by order-in-council, if permitted, will soon undermine our democracy."

Saskatchewan supported the case against the deportation order before the Supreme Court of Canada.

Alta. Education Plans Outlined In Legislature

The provincial department of education is making every effort to see that pupils in Alberta schools get both the "pros and cons" of points which are arguable, according to R. Earl Ansley, minister of education, in a two-hour address to the Legislative Assembly on Wednesday afternoon as he reported to members on the progress being made in his department during the debate on the Speech from the Throne.

So broad a policy will be opposed by very few, the minister said, as he classed two of the groups which do not like to have all sides of a question discussed.

Among those who do not like this policy would be self-confessed atheists, so commonly found among the Communists, Mr. Ansley said, and it will also be found that there will be opposition from those who would be dictators and who have the power complex.

"WE MUST EXERCISE the utmost toleration," he stated in reference to the methods to be used in drafting a curriculum.

Communism was again mentioned in the minister's address when he told of the work of the audio-visual branch in his department who are charged with the responsibility of sending out instructional films to country and other schools. Many films of an educational nature on Russia have been sent out for showing, but in some cases pictures were held back from distribution as they were deliberate propaganda.

He instanced one such which showed a part of Russia's tremendous war effort.

"The Russians have always been good fighters," he said, "particularly in defence of their country, but this film showed that they were good fighters because they were Communists and not because they were Russians."

HE WAS REPORTING on the policy the government has been following in respect to curriculum in the schools and said that every effort was being made to recognize the individual as such and to teach the relationship of the individual to the group.

He said however that there was no attempt to inculcate a "group mind" which disregards the very existence of man's soul.

The education minister reported that there had been an increase in school population of the province in the year closing at the end of January, 1946, and that nearly 200 more units are now available for the pupils than there were at the same time a year ago.

THERE ARE STILL about 1,684 pupils in isolated areas in the province where school facilities are not now available but the province is now completely covered by school division or consolidated district set ups.

The teacher situation remains very grave however, he stated as he replied to the criticism of the leader of the opposition, J. Percy Page, that salaries are too low in the profession. While he agreed that until teachers' salaries are raised to a standard comparable with that paid to other professions the problem will not be solved, he quoted figures to show that Alberta paid the third highest teacher salaries among the nine provinces.

THIS PROVINCE'S median salaries for teachers is $1,100 a year, he said. It is topped only by B.C. with $1,471 and Ontario with $1,209. Other provinces trail behind these three with Prince Edward Island at the bottom of the list with a median salary of $587.

The new teacher training program under which the training of teachers is integrated with university training is arousing keen interest all across Canada and is having beneficial results with more than 700 teacher-students undergoing training.

ANNOUNCEMENT was made by the minister that the "isolation pay" being given to teachers who are sent to districts some distance from towns and other centres will be raised from $200 to $250. The extra pay thus earned ranges from $250 down to $50.

The services of Canadian Vocational Training are now almost exclusively devoted to the training of veterans, Mr. Ansley said, with 2,773 now taking courses in this province. More than 900 of these are taking pre-matriculation training. They receive credits for their previous education as well as for the work they have done in the services when they enter such a pre-matriculation course.

He dealt at length with previously announced administrative changes in his department which he said were working very well and were eliminating many confusions which had previously made the work more difficult.

The ROAD AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

YESTERDAY I outlined why the three servicemen's representatives in the legislature are determined not to be drawn into some debates, and what courses of action they intended to take to maintain their position of party neutrality. Today I want to outline what we intend to do.

WE FEEL THAT OUR position in the house is that of "expert witness" on all questions directly or indirectly concerning returned men. Our experiences in the services and since our discharge have given us information which is not common knowledge to other members of the House whose time is taken up with the studying of the problems of their own local constituents.

We feel therefore that we are in a position to give the members of the Legislature information which they could not easily get otherwise, about what the servicemen need, what they want, and what they think about things in general. We know what their outlook is and what their problems are. My personal files of letters I have received from ex-servicemen and servicemen are of great value to me in this regard and permit me too keep in touch with the changing problems facing ex-servicemen in various parts of the province.

WE ARE PREPARED to take an active part in questions of direct interest to ex-servicemen such as housing, employment opportunities, educational and vocational training opportunities both for ex-service

Calgary Funeral Service Arranged For Mrs. M. Scott

A funeral service will be conducted in Calgary for Mrs. Margaret Alice Scott, mother of Harry Scott, former sports editor of the Calgary Albertan, who died Tuesday at the home of another son, Fred E. Scott, 27 Arlington Apartments, Edmonton. She was the widow of R. J. Scott.

THE QUESTION

How are you making out with reduced butter rations in restaurants?

THE ANSWERS

JOHN BAKER, truck driver: I think there is some good in everything. Less butter for instance. I was putting weight like a flat balloon takes in air. I figure that with less butter, maybe my weight will come down to normal again.

HARVEY LANE, salesman: I don't like it but for obvious reasons I'm lumping it. I find that with the usual cafe meal, if I cut down my bread roll consumption from two to one roll, I can make the butter they serve spread out. But it would never last for two buns!

* * *

ELLEN HALVORSEN, stenog: I've solved my butter problem. As of two weeks ago, I stopped eating bread or rolls or anything served with restaurant meals that requires butter. And I haven't been suffering from lack of food by any means.

Land Assessment Appeals Expected

Reassessment last year of more than 30,000 parcels of land in the province is expected to result in a flood of appeals, according to officials of the department of municipal affairs.

To deal with the increased appeal stream an enlarged committee, to be known as the Alberta assessment commission, was announced by order-in-council Thursday.

CHAIRMAN OF THE NEW commission is J. M. Forbes, once of the engineer's branch of the department of public works. Other members are A. R. Soutter, retiring deputy minister of municipal affairs, and W. R. Crockett, K.C. Edmonton barrister. The secretary of the new board is J. B. Laidlaw, assistant inspector in the department of municipal affairs.

Suspend Sentence On Young Miner

An 18-year-old miner, James R. D'Alieva was placed on suspended sentence for 12 months by Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., in city police court Thursday morning when he appeared on a theft charge. Charge arose following an alleged "joke" played by the youth against a miner he didn't like. He pleaded guilty to taking the miner's watch and placing it in the lunch box of another.

Tanner Reports On Government Welfare Service

Thorough investigation is made at the home of every applicant who wishes to adopt a child under the terms of the Alberta Child Welfare Act, both before and after the child comes into its new home, according to Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines in reporting on the government's welfare services.

THE INVESTIGATION is made by a home investigation committee who must give a favorable report on home conditions before further consideration is given to the approval of an application. Nor can an adoption become legal until the child has lived in the home for at least a year, and the home has been subjected to further inspections.

The minister also dealt with the administration of other branches of welfare work, including old age pension, direct relief and mothers' allowances.

He devoted a few minutes of his address to the problem of the Metis residents of the province. Ten separate colonies with an area of more than 1½ million acres have been set aside for the use of these people, who are also assisted by way of material for building of homes, free education and some free medical attention.

FIVE SCHOOLS have been built for the use of the children of these settlers.

They help themselves to a great extent, the minister said, having manufactured more than 3,000,000 feet of lumber for the lumber to a large extent used in construction of their own homes. The balance left over has been sold to assist in defraying expenses of the administration of the act.

An annual income of between $400 and $500 from the sale of whitefish is enjoyed by one of the colonies, the minister said.

Information Asked On Hiring by Govt.

Questions are to be asked of the provincial government, according to the orders of the day for Thursday, on the policies pursued in the hiring of temporary and permanent employees, especially in connection with veterans. The questions and a motion for a return appear on the order paper in the name of Harper Prowse (Army). The motion is supported by F. C. Colborne (Air Force).

The motion asks that a return show a copy of the declaration required to be signed by all employees of the provincial government as temporary employees, and also a copy of such regulations which authorized the printing of such a declaration.

STATISTICAL INFORMATION requested by the army representative includes the number of employees required to sign the declaration asked for; how many government employees were granted leave of absence to take a place in the services; how many of the people hired since Dec. 31, 1942 have been veterans and how many of these people are still in the employ of the government, or have been confirmed as permanent employees.

The army member also wants to know what, if any steps have been taken to terminate the employment of personnel who are over-age and entitled to retirement, and what steps have been taken to advertise vacancies so that World War II veterans are able to make application for them.

Explains Reason Hog Prices Held

Packers are holding down the prices paid hog producers in Western Canada as a result of losses sustained on hog processing in Eastern Canada, due to the reported "black market" in Quebec and Ontario, according to Hugh W. Allen, president of Alberta Livestock Cooperative and chairman of the livestock section of Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

MR. ALLEN MADE the statement Wednesday after an address he made before the University of Alberta short course and co-operative conference. The meeting was conducted by George Church, UFA president, as chairman.

A black market price of $35 per head for any 200-lb. hog was openly quoted in the west, Mr. Allen declared, eastern farmers were getting from $6 to $7 more per head than were Alberta farmers.

"These black market activities which I was told operate without restraint and in total disregard of government regulations, mainly in the Montreal vicinity but affecting all Eastern Canada, have been the main factor in boosting Eastern Canadian hog prices," he stated.

Food Production Increase Sought

A resolution requesting the governments of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Mnaitoba to take the steps necessary to reconvene immediately the conference with the Dominion government, which limited the amount of their productivity, in order that the three prairie provinces may make a maximum contribution to dwindling food supplies of the world, is to be presented to the legislature, by A. J. Hamilton (CCF, Calgary) according to the orders of the day for Thursday.

THE PREAMBLE TO THE Calgary member's resolution, which is supported by E. E. Mobilization Board Here Is Dissolved

Announcement was made Thursday by Chief Justice Horace Harvey, chairman of the Alberta mobilization board, that the board has been dissolved, and that a small committee headed by Robert English, registrar to the board, will continue to function to clean up unfinished work.

CREATED IN 1940 the board handled 174,558 actual call-ups for military service with the best record in Canada for the lowest number of defaulters.

The board actually handled 189,423 national registration cards, and it was reported Thursday that 56,005 men enlisted voluntarily either before or after call-ups.

According to the board's records only 26 men were unaccounted for, which is the lowest figure in Canada for defaulters.

Youth Parley Delegate Tells Of Problems

University of Alberta students gathered Wednesday afternoon in the Medical building to hear first-hand most problems and trends exist in youth group throughout the world. The speaker, Ernest Nix, who represented Canadian Protestant youth and Canadian university students at the World Youth conference, held in London last November, gave a resume of conference activities. Mr. Nix reports that the general principle behind the conference is the belief that if people of the world really know each other, war will be impossible.

R. NIX, THE FIRST Canadian speaker, was one of the group of 13 Canadian delegates representing the main youth interests of this nation.

Thirty nations were represented. Germany and Japan had no delegates at the conference. Mr. Nix reported that the thinking of European youth, particularly Russia, is primarily political, and considers anything not connected with politics as unessential. With regard to voting at conference resolutions, Mr. Nix noted that the 60 Russian delegates always gave a unanimous decision, an indication of a unity of which they were proud.

THE CONSTITUTION resolutions and work of the conference was briefly outlined by Mr. Nix.

Mr. Nix reported that living conditions; study conditions and food supply in Europe are deplorable. Immediately after the war, Mr. Nix stated that while in Prague, he learned that in one case there was one book for 30,000 students, that 20,000 students, 15,000 desperately required new clothes. Overcrowding in colleges results from the opening of universities after being closed during six years of war. Five thousand students were enrolled in first year medicine alone. Mr. Nix urged students here to support the International Student Service to the fullest possible extent.

RON HELMER, president of the Students' Union, gave a resume of the activities of the National Federation of Canadian University Students Conference which he attended in December. The purpose of this gathering was to integrate the activities on all campuses across Canada. Regional groups met to solve such problems as exchange scholarships, railway fares for students, and student employment.

Bus Osborne was chairman at the meeting.

Beer and Milk Trucks in Crash

Milk won a skirmish over beer at a South Side traffic accident at noon Wednesday when a fully loaded milk truck collided with a truck load of beer on Saskatchewan Drive, just west of 106 street.

The milk escaped without damage but 130 dozen bottles of beer were smashed when the load toppled from the truck. Glass from the broken bottles littered the scene of the accident.

Leo Grams, driver of the milk truck, told police that he was driving west on Saskatchewan Drive, when the approaching vehicle turning east off the small bridge on 106 street. He applied his brakes but the truck skidded on the icy street and slid across the centre of the road. William Fleming, 1921 125 street, stated that he pulled over to the side of the road but was unable to get far enough over to clear the skidding milk truck.

French Editor Here on Tour Of Americas

MR. RAS PLANS to fly by CP Air Lines to Dawson City to get a first hand look at the great north and will then go to the coast and down into the United States.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Our Richest Luxuries Have No Price Tags

Because We Never Know When We Are Well Off, We Fail to Realize That We Are Lolling in Luxuries That Money Cannot Buy

What are luxuries? If we were trying to define luxuries, we would say that they were something over and above the necessities of life—high-powered cars, fine clothes, jewels, sumptuous fare—something that only the rich can possess. Yet in reality, the greatest luxuries in the world have no price tag on them and are equally within the reach of the poor and the wealthy.

THERE IS LOVE, for example. It is only the poor who have the luxury of knowing that they are loved for themselves alone. The millionaire wonders if his bride married him for the devotion he could give her, or the matched pearls and mink coats he could buy her. The poor little rich girl suspects every man who comes near her of being a fortune-hunter. And so neither one has the ineffable luxury of resting in perfect faith and trust in the other. That is why there are more old maids and more bachelors and more divorces among the very rich than the poor.

FRIENDSHIP IS another luxury on which the poor have a practical monopoly. The rich soon grow cynical and hard because their trust is betrayed so often. So many of the hands that are held out to them in the guise of friendship have itching palms. So much professed affection is only a camouflage for greed that they are afraid to give their hearts to anyone. It is only the poor, who have nothing to gain except comradeship from each other, who can know the true luxury of friendship.

It is only the poor children who every enjoy the luxury of having parents. The children of the very rich are practically fatherless and motherless. They are turned over to the hired nurses when they are born, reared by tutors and governesses, sent off to expensive schools and colleges in their adolescence, and they never really get acquainted with the man and woman who brought them into the world. Many and many a little plutocrat never knows the luxury of feeling the softness of a mother's breast, or the miracle of a mother's lips that can kiss a hurt and make it well, or of having a father to whom one turned for help and guidance as one did to God.

WORK IS STILL another luxury on which the poor have a priority. To do the work that absorbs one's time and thought and energy, to create to build, to do something with one's brains and hands that is worth while—that is one infallible source of happiness that never fails. But it is a luxury in which the rich are seldom privileged to indulge. They, poor souls, are reduced to the sad expedient of boondoggling, of taking up hobbies in which they have no real interest, of playing games that bore them, of killing time, which is the hardest work in the world.

And it is the poor oftener than the rich who know the luxury of having a real home. Those who have a dozen places in which they spend a few weeks during the year are as homeless as any nomad who wanders over the desert. You have to make the home yourself that becomes a part of your life. You have to make it with your own hands, with your own work. You have to mix your own sweat with its brick and mortar. You must have offered yourself up as a sacrifice on its altar before it becomes truly a home, the dearest place on earth.

It is one of life's little ironies that, as the old proverb puts it, we never know when we are well off, and so we fail to realize that we are lolling in luxuries that money cannot buy, while we are pitying ourselves because we haven't the price of a new car.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

WE LIVE WITH COLDS so casually that we may fail to develop any sense of responsibility for protecting others from them. We may even excuse ourselves by thinking that if colds are around everyone is exposed anyway, so why feel self-conscious? But we dare not feel that way when it is a question of children. We can never know how seriously our simple cold may affect a small child, if transferred to him.

Mrs. A. H. feels that people should be reminded about the seriousness of passing on colds to little ones. "Affectionate grandparents and aunts feel they cannot keep away from 'Betty's baby', even though they smother the child with their germy caresses.

"MOTHERS of children with colds should keep them away from other youngsters. A friend of mine nearly robbed me out with the following remark, 'I thought I'd come anyway, (her children had had colds), with all the colds and coughs there are my children's coughs won't cause any trouble. I don't think they are contagious'.

"Her children coughed all the time they were in the house. A smart mother packed up her 4-year-old and took her home with the announcement that she wouldn't risk exposing her. The guilty mother offered to leave but the mischief had already been done. I couldn't leave for it was in my own home this all took place.

"Also, why do older people demonstrate the use of horns and whistles to little children and then take them right out of their mouths and put them into theirs?

"I have come to the conclusion that hinting is not enough. Some people have to be jolted into a realization that parents—and maybe children—can suffer real injury if exposed to the common cold".

NO ONE LIKES to hurt anyone's feelings, but if the mother described had no more consideration for your children's health than to bring her ailing children to visit them, you should not feel guilty if you told her that you preferred she stay at home. Wash all objects taken from anyone's mouth, and say why you do. We don't accomplish much in this world if we haven't the courage to voice our convictions.

Our leaflet No. 16 "Causes and Care of Colds", may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Why Grow Old?

A young, active person like Actress Peggy Knudsen may be able to eat rich sundaes like the one she is tackling without ill effect. When you are older, you must cut down on calorie intake to keep your weight down.

THE OLDER you are the more dangerous it is for you to permit the condition of overweight, yet many more middle-aged and older persons are overweight than young ones. Statistics indicate that until you are 30 years old a little more than your normal weight is advisable. After that a little under your ideal weight gives you a shot at longer and more vibrant living.

JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Most people increase in weight gradually as they grow older. This is usually due to the fact that eating habits which are established during youth, when the body was young and rapidly developing and when there was no physical activity, have been taken into middle years, while the habit of exercise has become more and more limited.

Also, the middle-aged budget can afford more rich foods than the youthful beginning one. The glandular system tends to slow down with years, and thus you have your mounting weights.

AS WE GROW OLDER we require less food. The average person of 30 needs about 2,500 calories. Although people differ in this matter. As you grow older your calorie intake should be decreased rather than increased. Some believe the calorie intake should be cut as low as 1500 a day by the age of 60. Naturally, everyone should obtain enough food, no matter what the calories, to supply the essential elements for body vitality, maintenance and operation. We require a well-balanced diet including proteins, minerals, vitamins, carbohydrates and fats. However, we can cut down on amounts of food consumed and also on the heat and energy foods, as we grow older.

So, if you find yourself stuffing at middle age, watch out or the pounds will get you!

IF YOU WISH TO HAVE my Calorie Chart and exercises for reducing and firming the abdomen, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflets No. 36 and No. 2 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, loss of appetite, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. These servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B_1, D, Riboflavin (G) and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells —high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

Points for Parents

By EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE

Mother: "Daddy, take Dick to his room and give him a good whipping. I'm tired of his fussing and complaining every time he comes to the table."

Mother: "Since you keep on fussing and whining and making it unpleasant for the rest of us, you'll have to take your plate to the kitchen and eat there alone."

If punishment is to be educative, it must "make sense" to the child.

Lorne Ingle Addresses Club

"Government ownership can be efficient and is so today," declared Lorne Ingle, speaking to the Edmonton Co-operative Commonwealth Federation Women's club in the Labor Temple, Monday evening.

The speaker cited many cases in point. The Canadian National Railway, now a paying proposition, was formed from railroad lines which went bankrupt under private control. Our own city-owned street railway system compares favorably with privately owned bus companies. The General post office, a government institution, is a byword for reliability and service. The Calgary power, a privately owned company supplies power to 505 farms as compared to Ontario's government hydro which serves 110,000 farms.

THE SPEAKER showed how, in a survey of production costs, the Manitoba power commission supplies Winnipeg with power at one-third per kilowatt hour, whereas Calgary power estimates its cost of production at one cent per kilowatt hour, both using water power. Edmonton's city-owned power plant, he said, using coal, can produce electricity at seven-tenths cents per kilowatt hour.

"Our local telephone service is cheaper and far more efficient than that of Ottawa which is served by the Bell Telephone Company," he said.

It is a noteworthy fact, the speaker said, that all the forgoing examples of government ownership are by governments who are in theory at least, opposed to such arrangements.

Where services on utilities are set up as separate entities and free from departmental interference, then expert management can be just as efficient under government control as under private enterprise, he said. Results are often different where government departments are headed by elected representatives of the people.

THE SPEAKER also pointed out the price of efficiency under capitalism, among which are unemployment, relief, sweated labor and cutthroat competition with consequent lowering of quality of goods and services.

Mr. Ingle concluded his remarks with a plea for more efficient care of our children who constitute the real wealth of a nation.

Mrs. Edith Rogers presided at the meeting. Plans were made for an Easter tea and sale of aprons and home cooking, to be held in the Empire room of the Hudson's Bay Company Store, April 25. Hollenshead were hostesses.

Hilda Hesson City Visitor

Desire to see the end of discrimination against women so far as salaries and positions are concerned was expressed by Miss Hilda Hesson, Winnipeg, national president of Business and Professional Women, who arrived in Edmonton Thursday morning and is a guest at the Macdonald hotel until Friday morning when she leaves for Prince Rupert and Vancouver. She has been attending a regional conference in Regina.

Miss Hesson, who is an alderman in Winnipeg, told The Edmonton Bulletin that there should be no discrimination against married women in the business world and that when persons were being considered for work of all types ability should be the one deciding factor.

SHE FELT that the interest and wisdom of women is needed in parliament and all such governing bodies and stressed the need for an understanding of the workings of government started with civic bodies and enlarging knowledge of wider fields.

"It is the responsibility of a club such as the Business and Professional Women to make itself heard," she said, "Women showed what they were capable of doing during the war and it is ridiculous to say that they cannot do anything about such factors as discrimination.

"The United Nations Organization charter itself stated that there was to be no discrimination through color, sex, race or creed."

MISS HESSON said there is a need for stiffer examination for citizenship in order to make new Canadians realize the importance of their status. She also favors the idea of women belonging to some political party. She said the American Federation of BPW believed in admitting new members only if they were members of a political party.

She stressed the importance of all clubs joining the national federation and through it the international federation.

OLDSTERS, TOO, NEED "QUICK ENERGY"

Not only youngsters but active people of all ages—even elderly people—"burn up" energy during all their waking hours. Cleaning and dusting, chopping wood, taking a ramble with the young folks—all such mild activities consume muscular energy, which must be quickly restored to maintain health and vigor. For this task Rogers' Golden Syrup has been found especially suitable. It is assimilated into the blood stream in a few minutes after eating, yielding its supply of valuable carbohydrates with very little digestive effort. To sweeten hot cakes and waffles, in baking cakes, cookies and pies, Rogers' Golden Syrup is easy to use, as well as economical. Most grocers have good supplies. Get a can today and keep it handy.

COMPLICATED RATIONING

STOWBRIDGE, Norfolk, Eng. —(CP)—Mrs. Mary Ann Gunns, who died at the age of 105, said her chief trouble was the rationing system which "is beyond my understanding." Five of her eight children are living, the oldest being 85.

New York City contains 509 hotels. Their gross income totals more than $165,000,000 annually.

Selling Cuts Rye Prices Five Cents

WINNIPEG, Feb. 21.—(CP) — Rye futures prices fell the five-cent limit permitted in one day on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today on moderate selling which found support thin. At the close May was $2.67, July $2.59½ asked, and Oct. $1.88½ asked.

A factor in the decline was the announcement by the Exchange Council of increased marginal requirements which resulted in some commission house liquidations.

Export trade in wheat was confined to sale of 280,000 bushels for shipment to the United Kingdom.

Plan Expansion Of Radar Bases On Canada Coast

TORONTO, Feb. 21—(CP)—Defence Minister Abbott, in an interview on peacetime defence problems of his department, said yesterday radar stations on the west and east coasts would be expanded.

"These coastal stations are important to navigation," the minister said, "and would be most important to the department of national defence in case of a world emergency."

Referring to Canada's permanent peacetime army of 25,000 men, to be trained as a hard-hitting airborne force, Mr. Abbott said the atomic bomb will not change army training. "There is a great deal more research yet to be done on this bomb," he added.

At the 62nd annual meeting of The Portage la Prairie Mutual Insurance Company, M. G. Tidsbury, president, stated that the Dominion government blue book figures show that the company lists an increase of $152,719.35 for the year 1945.

IN OPENING THE meeting, Mr. Tidsbury said "It is with a great deal of pleasure that we present this our 62nd report, after six years of warfare, the cost of which in lives, money and property, is almost beyond estimating. To many, 1945 will always stand as the most memorable year in their lives, and it was a notable one in the history of our company. We are pleased to report that we have again put on an increase in premium note business of nearly three million dollars additional business for 1945.

Assets were increased by $152,719.35. The liabilities have also increased but there is an increase in the surplus of $77,420.38. Collections on the premium note business were again excellent and stood at 96¼% on December 31, 1945, and the directors were again able to maintain a 20% levy. Despite a reduction in rates, the cash premiums showed an increase of $39,094.19 over 1944 in the provinces where the company operates.

FIRE INSURANCE in force at the end of the year, amounted to $116,302,256, an increase of $11,570,886 over 1944. Of this amount, $23,001,361 was reinsured on a net amount at risk of $93,300,895. Windstorm business totalled $3,715,941 with $1,924,470 reinsured and of the gross amount, $3,044,274 is on the premium note system."

Re-Introduction Of Milk Quota System Is Asked

The milk quota supply system, abandoned during the war years, will be re-introduced in the milk distributing industry in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge if a joint submission made by distributors and producers is given effect to by the Alberta Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

THE SUBMISSION, which was drafted following a meeting of distributors and shippers in Edmonton Wednesday, was presented to Commissioners G. M. Blackstock, KC, and Bruce V. Massie at a hearing at the court house Thursday morning. The spokesman for the distributors and shippers at the meeting was R. H. M. Bailey, Edmonton, president of the National Dairymen's Association.

Commissioner Blackstock, opening the sitting, stated that the general feeling was that the quota system should be re-established. This general feeling, he added was evident at a meeting held at Calgary two weeks ago.

PRESENTING THE JOINT submission for the shippers and distributors, Mr. Bailey said that agreement had been reached on the re-introduction of the quota delivery system and submitted a 13-clause memorandum covering the terms of the agreement.

This agreement recognized that the quota was the property of the individual producer, and it recommended that a fair and equitable quota system be re-introduced, and that present temporary shippers should be granted permanent quotas on some fair basis, if necessary.

IT PROVIDED ALSO that there should be no set limit to the area of any milk shed, but that first choice should be made of shippers closest to the plant.

It was agreed also that any new quota issued should not be purchased by the producer who receives it, and the issuing of quotas would be under the jurisdiction of quota committee at each distributing plant.

The following principles will apply to the issuance of quotas:

EACH PRESENT QUOTA holder will receive at his option an increase of 15 per cent of his quota regardless of past performance; new quota should then be issued to present quota holders on their approval up to the limit of their capacity to produce, and any quota remaining unallocated should then be allotted to temporary shippers on a fair basis.

The total quota outstanding after issuing of new quotas would be 110 per cent of sales during September, October, and November, 1945, and all quotas are to be determined as soon as possible and to become operative August 1, 1946.

IT WAS AGREED THAT plant requirements should be set at 25 per cent of sales, that is the present 110 per cent plus 15 per cent more, and that each producer, whether shipping to the full amount of quota or not, must assume his share of plant requirements, this share to be based on his milk shipments.

To Use Animals In Atom Tests

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Goats, sheep and pigs, tethered aboard the target ships, will be the stand-ins for man in the atomic bomb tests. Scientists and military experts expect to learn from the tests the biologic effects of blast, heat, light and radio-activity. From the animals it will be possible to take physical measurements on which close predictions can be made of the reaction on man—death, severe injury, slight disability.

TAKE PRIDE IN ALBERTA!

Water Works Wonders IN ALBERTA

There are garden areas in Alberta now producing abundant and profitable crops, which for many years were the scene of devastating droughts that brought loss and hardship to the settlers.

Water has wrought this miracle. Irrigation of the soil has not only given an assured and abundant yield of vegetables, sugar beets, fruits, fodder and other crops—besides raising fine livestock—but has given rise to thriving industries including canning plants and the Southern Alberta sugar industry.

Prosperity is contagious. Not only do these irrigation districts maintain a larger and more prosperous farm population but they have promoted a corresponding increase in the population of the towns that serve them. The benefits of this prosperity extend to transportation and commercial interests, to the municipalities, the province, and the dominion.

If recommendations of the Alberta Post-War Reconstruction Committee on Agriculture for extension of irrigation projects are carried out, the new irrigation areas will provide nearly 10,000 farms that should maintain a prosperous farm population of about 50,000 persons, and increase urban population by possibly 30,000.

This way lie progress and prosperity for our province. With courageous and intelligent development, we can make Alberta a land of greater abundance for all our people.

G. H. Ferguson, Former Ontario Premier, Dies

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, one-time Ontario premier and later Canadian high commissioner to the United Kingdom, died suddenly at his home here early today. He was 76.

MR. FERGUSON, who in 25 years of Ontario politics had never suffered personal defeat at the polls, had retired from public life following his five-year term in London.

Born on a small farm near Kemptville in Eastern Ontario, he was literally born into the Conservative party. His father, Dr. Charles Ferguson, was for many years a member of the House of Commons and a close friend of Sir John A. Macdonald.

He entered politics shortly after graduating from Osgoode Hall as a lawyer and became a member of the Ontario legislature in 1905.

ENERGY AND DEBATING skill brought him to the fore and in 1914 he entered the Ontario cabinet of Sir William Hearst as minister of land and forests.

Five years later the government was defeated, although Mr. Ferguson was one of the few ministers re-elected. He was chosen leader of the party and re-organized the Conservative organization while a United Farmer-Labor government ruled. His party swept back into power in 1923 and won elections handily in 1926 and 1929.

HE RESIGNED IN 1930 to become Canada's high commissioner to Britain. He resigned the post in November, 1935, after the Liberal government of Mackenzie King defeated the Conservative government at Ottawa, and was succeeded by the present high commissioner, Vincent Massey.

During his five years as high commissioner, Mr. Ferguson developed advance negotiations which led to holding of the imperial economic conference at Ottawa in 1932 and he represented the Dominion at international gatherings in Geneva and Rome.

$37,000 Planned For Play Areas Goes In Budget

The Edmonton Recreation Commission's 1946 playgrounds development program, costing approximately $37,000 will be included in the 1946 estimates and final action on individual items in the program will be taken by aldermen when the civic budget is being considered.

RECOMMENDATION to include the commission's 1946 program in the estimates was made Wednesday by city council's finance committee.

The program included the development of five playgrounds, provision of supervision for these playgrounds, the levelling of eight other grounds, the flood lighting of the Kingsway fastball park, and the construction of two additional diamonds, and the provision of $2,200 for band concerts.

Several aldermen asked that consideration be given to the terms of reference under which the commission was created, and suggested that it would be advisable that the commission's power and scope should be clearly defined.

W. Clarence Richards, chairman of the commission, intimated its members would welcome the definition of its powers and scope.

PLAYGROUNDS SCHEDULED

for development this year include one at 77 and 78 avenues between 97 and 98 streets. This would serve the Ritchie district, and the supervisor in charge would co-ordinate all activities in South Edmonton districts.

Another proposed development is the Boyle Street playground which it is proposed to provide with a low wire fence, and also standard children's play equipment. This equipment will be provided in all the proposed playgrounds with the exception of that to serve the Oliver district where the present equipment provided through Gyro will be utilized.

A new playground is proposed for the Cromdale and Bellevue communalities. It will be located on grounds in Borden Park, and the playground at 120 avenue and 101 street will be further developed and play equipment will be installed.

Also to be further developed is the Oliver district playground located at 103 and 104 avenues between 118 and 119 street. This ground will be graded, but no equipment will be required.

SUPERVISION of the five playgrounds will cost approximately $10,000, an average of $2,000 for each centre.

In addition to the development of these grounds it is proposed to level play areas at Calder, Jasper Place, Forest Heights, Highlands, Cloverdale, McKernan Lake, Bonnie Doon, and Eastwood. The cost of this work is stated to be $4,800.

The budget item for city supervisor and stenographer salary, administration, transportation and leadership training is set at $6,000.

The committee also recommended that a request from Edmonton Musicians' Protective Association be laid on the table until the 1946 estimates are being considered.

Road Ahead

men and their families, general labor legislation, such as agricultural measures as may affect ex-servicemen, and general social legislation.

We will not talk on every question that comes before the assembly. The reason for this is obvious. In the first place we do not possess the detailed information necessary to discuss every measure that comes before the house in an intelligent manner. We will listen to these discussions in order to acquire information for future use and to permit us to form opinions. In the second place if the 60 members of the house each thought it necessary for him to put in his "two-bits worth" on every question raised in the house we would never get anything done.

UNLIKE THE OTHER members of the legislature who are responsible only to the electors living in their own, rather small constituencies, we must speak for all the members, and ex-members of our particular arm of the service wherever they may be. Our constituency not only extends all over the province, but includes servicemen from Alberta wherever they may be stationed.

It is important then, if we are to do as much as possible, that the servicemen, and ex-servicemen, wherever they may be, write us and let us know what they want us to do. Such letters not only keep us advised on the problems which require attention, but provide us with first rate evidence to present to the house in support of our arguments.

FOR EXAMPLE, if I stand up in the house and say something should be done about housing, the members may, or may not be inclined to believe me. But if I can stand up and show them a sheaf of letters, from men living in all parts of the province, and read them extracts from those letters quoting the men themselves as stating that they are suffering from the housing shortage, then they must accept that evidence and I have a better chance of getting what I ask for.

Servicemen, and ex-servicemen will, then, be doing themselves and their comrades a favor, if they will write to either L. Dudley Ward, the navy representative; Fred C. Osborne, DFC, the air force representative, or myself, in care of the Legislative Buildings, Edmonton, explaining to us any problems which confront them. We will not, of course, be able to solve all these problems, but we have a better chance of solving problems if we know what they are than if we do not know that they exist.

AFTER ALL, you elected us to represent you. We agreed to do that. You now have a right to tell us what you expect us to do, and we have a right to ask you to tell us what you require us to do. We are prepared to ask the legislature any reasonable thing which will help veterans or servicemen in any way, provided the action lies within the powers of the provincial house.

13 Private Bills Brought Into House

All 13 private bills to come before this session of the Alberta Legislature were given first reading at Wednesday afternoon's sitting. It is expected the bills will receive further attention on Thursday.

This brings to a total of 20 the number of government bills offered for the consideration of the Legislature.

All four of the new bills were sponsored by the Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of municipal affairs. Two of them validated orders in council passed in 1929, which changed the boundaries of the villages of Innisfree and Lomond.

THE OTHER TWO BILLS also validated orders-in council relating to active service voters or veterans just returned from service who wished to vote at any town or village election and prescribed a new form of oath to be taken by the veterans.

The second government bill made similar changes for veterans who had been absent on active service to vote in the city of Wetaskiwin and in the Wetaskiwin school elections.
